Van Lear Black Thought to Have Died in Fall From Yacht.

TRAGEDY REPORTED BY VESSEL'S MASTER

VAN LEAR BLACK.

New York, Aug. 19 (A.P.).—The Navy dirigible Los Angeles joined the Coast Guard craft and seaplanes today in an intensive search of the sea for Van Lear Black, millionaire Baltimore publisher and aviation enthusiast, who disappeared last night from his yacht off the New Jersey coast.

The huge dirigible was ordered by Navy officials in Washington to proceed to a point about 12 miles south of Scotland Lightship at the entrance to New York Harbor, where Black is believed to have fallen from his vessel, the Savalo.

Four 75-foot patrol boats from the Coast Guard station at Staten Island were dispatched to the same spot. Two Coast Guard boats from the Sandy Hook station scoured the coast from Sandy Hook to Seaside Park but reported no trace of the publisher. Four seaplanes from the Curtis flying service took off late today to scan the waters of the harbor near the place he is believed to have gone down.

Yacht in Gravesend Bay.

The Savalo pulled into Gravesend Bay late today and anchored in the bay after an all-night hunt for the body of its owner. John J. Kelley, the master, reported the tragedy to Mr. Black's associates in Baltimore, after a steward had failed to find his employer on the yacht about 10 o'clock last night.

Gov. Roosevelt and Rear Admiral Byrd were guests of Mr. Black aboard the Savolo on a cruise in Long Island Sound recently. For many years the governor and the publisher have made annual outings aboard the yacht.

The noted publisher was considered a fair swimmer and some of his friends here, refusing to give up all hope, clung to the bare possibility that he might have managed to keep afloat long enough to have been rescued by some small craft. As the hours went by, however, this hope became more and more forlorn.

Planes Search for Publisher.

Mr. Black arrived at the North Beach Airport on Long Island yesterday afternoon from Newport, R. I., where he had gone to visit a daughter, to whom twins had been born. He stayed at the airport half an hour, chatting with Capt. Harry Rogers, an official at Curtiss-Wright Field, and at the end of that time boarded a speedboat which took him to a Manhattan dock, where the Savalo was tied up.

After being informed of the accident to Mr. Black, Paul Patterson, president of the Baltimore Sun publishing concern, telephoned to Curtiss-Wright Field directing that planes be pressed into service to search for the publisher.

Later Mr. Patterson, accompanied by Mr. Black's private secretary, arrived at the field by airplane from Baltimore.

Taken Aboard Savalo.

They were picked up by a plane which had been searching for the publisher and were immediately taken to the Black yacht, anchored in Gravesend Bay.

Four seaplanes engaged in a search for the publisher returned to their base tonight without having found a trace of him. They will resume the search early tomorrow morning.

Gov. Roosevelt kept in touch with the search this afternoon and tonight.

"I have not given up the hope that Mr. Black has been picked up by a passing boat," he telegraphed the New York World tonight. "He is one of my oldest and best friends."

Baltimore, Aug. 19 (A.P.).—The opinion that Van Lear Black, known in many countries for his airplane flights, fell accidentally from a dangerous perch on the rail of the yacht, which he was accustomed to use despite warnings of the captain, was expressed by Kelly in his report of the tragedy.

On the deck was found a handkerchief and the captain said apparently he lost his hold when the yacht took a sudden lurch as he reached for the handkerchief.

Mr. Black was on his way to Chesapeake Bay after cruising and visiting in the vicinity of New York since

FOURTH STRONG BOX OF ZUTA IS LOCATED

Safe Deposit Vault Reveals Gangster's Records of More Recent Date.

STATE SENATOR NAMED

Chicago, Aug. 19 (A.P.).—Another safe deposit box, the fourth, property of the slain Jack Zuta, Chicago vice lord, was discovered today by authorities seeking to trace the motive for killing Alfred J. Lingle, Tribune reporter. The latest find, authorities said, contained records of more recent date than did the other three, contents of which have been revealed as a series of canceled checks, many of them from three to eight years old, drawn by Zuta in favor of Chicago officials and political leaders.

Ledger sheets detailing receipts and disbursements of the North Side clique of Moran-Aiello-Zuta hoodlums and a number of notes in favor of Zuta were found in the first three boxes opened.

Despite the statement of State's Attorney John A. Swanson, that papers found in the box were too old to permit their use as a basis of prosecution because the statute of limitations had invalidated them, those in charge of the investigation continue to release names on the checks for publication.

Today two checks, drawn in favor of State Senator Harry W. Starr, each for $200, signed by Zuta, were disclosed to the press without comment by the investigators.

Both checks bore October, 1926, dates and Senator Starr explained that he had taken the checks as fees in civil cases in which he represented Zuta. Senator Starr is a candidate for reelection from the Thirteenth (South Chicago) District.

Two checks made out to Joseph "Diamond Joe" Esposito, slain three years ago in what police termed the struggle for control of a large Sicilian organization, were among those disclosed, and another bore the indorsement of Tony Lombardo, slain in a spectacular hoodlum outburst within half a block from State and Madison streets, the city's busiest street intersection.

Canceled checks for about $1,300 bearing the indorsement of H. Finkelstein also were found. Finkelstein was sought for questioning in connection with Zuta's death after a witness testified his picture bore a likeness to one of Zuta's executioners.

Other checks, made out for small amounts were drawn in favor of minor bootleggers, authorities said.

MIXED CHICAGO INFANTS AGAIN ARE SWITCHED

Bamberger and Watkins Families Agree to New Exchange.

FORMER SUDDENLY DECIDES UPON STEP

And Mrs. Watkins Readily Relinquishes Baby and Takes Other.

SCIENTIFIC METHOD CALLED VINDICATED

Doctor Explains How Tests Proved Right Parents Now Have Right Offspring.

Chicago, Aug. 19 (A.P.).—The Bamberger-Watkins babies were switched again today, the parents agreeing to exchange the infants given them at Englewood Hospital where they were born and where their identity labels were mixed.

Suddenly deciding they did not possess their own baby, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bamberger took the infant boy to the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Watkins, to make an exchange which heretofore Mr. Bamberger has ruled against. With the decision they called their attorney, Joseph Powers, who asked Dr. Arnold Kegel, city health commissioner to accompany them and officially witness the exchange.

Arriving at the Watkins home, Mrs. Bamberger, bearing the infant which was christened as a "Bamberger," said she wanted to exchange the babies.

"Oh, I've always wanted that baby It's mine," smiled Mrs. Watkins. "But how'll we do it?"

This problem was solved when Mrs. Bamberger picked up the child lying peacefully in the Watkins crib, and exchanged its clothing for that worn by the one heretofore possessed by the Bambergers.

Sobs Mark Exchange.

The exchange was not without a few sobs. Mrs. Watkins, once the baby held by Mrs. Bamberger was handed to her by Dr. Kegel, sat upon a couch and cried softly, holding the baby close. Mr. Bamberger took the infant that she had always doubted was her own and remarked that she "would have to learn all over again how to hold him, he's heavier than the other one."

Mr. Bamberger meanwhile remained quiet, but attentive of the proceedings, and once slyly remarked as if to relieve the tension and strain of the two mothers, "Don't mix 'em again."

Attorney Powers, who interceded in the case for the Bambergers after an investigation and a review of the findings of the city health commissioner's office, convinced the couple they held the wrong baby.

Hospital to Be Sued.

With the agreement of the Bambergers to return the baby to the Watkins, Attorney Powers agreed to sue the Englewood Hospital, where it is claimed the original error was made, for any damages that may accrue. The hospital, being a charitable institution, under the State law is not liable, some judicial experts have pointed out, for damages. The two families signed a letter for Dr. Kegel which thanked his office for the assistance given in determining the proper parentage after an exhaustive medical and scientific research.

A statement from Dr. Kegel explained the method of determining the parentage, which was reviewed by Mr. Bamberger and his attorney and led to the action today.

An anthropologist found, after measurements of the children's heads,

Aimee McPherson Ill; Explanations at Odds

Mrs. Minnie Kennedy (right), mother of Aimee Semple McPherson, who declares that a physical encounter between them resulted in the parent being in a sanitarium and the famous evangelist also going under a doctor's care.

Breakdown Near, Doctor Says; Mother Talks About Battle.

Los Angeles, Calif., Aug. 19 (A.P.).—While the public tongue wagged with a variety of stories as to the cause of it all, Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist builder of Angelus Temple, was in seclusion at a beach cottage today on the verge of a nervous breakdown.

Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, the evangelist's mother, was in a sanitarium undergoing plastic surgery treatment.

From her cot in a sanitarium, Mrs. Kennedy tonight told newspapermen the events which led to a fist fight between her and her daughter, Aimee Semple McPherson, noted evangelist.

Mrs. Kennedy was undergoing treatment for a broken nose, which she said was caused by her daughter.

The trouble started, she said, when Mrs. McPherson accused her of talking about her and her secretary, Mae Waldron.

"Aimee was wild," she said. "We had a few words and then she came right out and accused me of talking

PROSECUTOR OUSTED IN INQUIRY OF EWALD

Gov. Roosevelt Orders Attorney General to Take Crain's Place.

SPECIAL COURT PLANNED

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 19 (A.P.).—Gov. Roosevelt late today ordered Attorney General Hamilton Ward to supersede District Attorney Thomas T. C. Crain, of New York City, in handling the case of former City Magistrate George F. Ewald, brought to a head when a New York County grand jury failed to indict on charges the former magistrate paid $10,000 for his appointment.

The governor designated Supreme Court Justice Philip J. McCook to convene an extraordinary term of court in New York September 15. Gov. Roosevel added nothing by way of explanation in announcing his action.

The charges resulted from reports the former magistrate's wife gave the money to Thomas T. Tommanney, who carried it to Martin J. Healy, Tammany leader of the Nineteenth Assembly District. Mrs. Ewald said the $10,000, given Healy just before Ewald's appointment to the city bench, was a loan.

Since the grand jury's failure to indict, District Attorney Crain has again brought the matter before it and the body is now considering it. Mr. Crain has announced he would present the case to a new grand jury if the present one declined to act.

Several days ago the governor ordered Mr. Crain to send him the records of the case. He received them this morning. He announced he would not act without first studying the record.

This is the first action the governor has taken to inquire into the city's affairs, though there have been

GLADYS O'DONNELL LEADING AIR DERBY

Mrs. Mildred Morgan Takes Third Place in Women's Race at Douglas.

AVIATRIX HAS ACCIDENT

Douglas, Ariz., Aug. 19 (A.P.).—Mrs. Gladys O'Donnell, Long Beach, Calif., won the fourth and fifth laps of the Women's National Air Derby today to increase her elapsed time lead to more than 16 minutes over Marjorie Doig, Danbury, Conn., who was in second place.

The six women who took off Sunday at Long Beach on the nine-day jaunt to Chicago, made the morning flight from Phoenix to Tucson and the afternoon trip from Tucson here without serious mishap.

Yesterday Ruth Barron, Hollywood, Calif., missed Phoenix in flying from Calexico, Calif., and was forced down in a cornfield 110 miles northwest of the Arizona capital by a fuel shortage. She rejoined the group shortly before continuance of the race at Phoenix this morning.

Mrs. Mildred Morgan, Beverly Hills, Calif., crowded Jean La Rene, Kansas City, out of third place by finishing ahead of her in both of today's flights. Otherwise the fliers' standings were unchanged, Ruth Stewart, St. Louis, remaining in fifth position and Miss Barron sixth.

The standings, as compiled unofficially tonight, were:

Entrant.	Total Elapsed Time.
Mrs. O'Donnell	3:56:29
Miss Doig	4:13:08
Mrs. Morgan	5:26:14
Miss La Rene	5:35:23
Miss Stewart	6:25:25
Miss Barron	21:39:52

Miss Doig was the victim of the only accident today. As she brought her plane down in Tucson, the noon control, a tire blew out, crumpling

BIGGER SLASH SOUGHT IN CITY ELECTRIC RATE

Utilities Commission Asks Increase in Annual Reductions.

FIGURES SUBMITTED TO FIRM'S OFFICERS

Accrued Depreciation Is Urged in Arriving at Light Charges.

VALUATION OF PLANT DISCUSSED AT PARLEY

Installations and Property Paid For by Consumers Also Touched Upon.

Increase in the annual reductions which have been made in the electric rates permitted the Potomac Electric Power Co. is aimed at in proposals which were submitted to officers of the company yesterday by the Public Utilities Commission.

Accrued depreciation, the commission suggested, should be taken into account in the electric light rates which are adjusted annually in line with the agreement between the commission and the company, whereby the rates are reduced at the beginning of each year. This agreement usually is described as giving electric consumers one-half of the excess profits made the preceding year by the company, but this description is inaccurate because the company retains the entire amount it earns in excess of 7½ per cent on its high valuation figure and the rates simply are reduced by enough to cut the excess profits in half the second year if the busines remains the same.

Business has steadily increased and the excess profits have piled up and the rates have been annually reduced since the agreement was made. Washington is said to have one of the lowest household electric rates of any city not supplied by water power.

New Factor Would Be Used.

Taking accrued depreciation into account each year in readjusting the rates would mean that an additional factor would be employed in reducing the electric bills of the customers of the company.

Just what will be done about this question was not determined at the conference between commission and company representatives yesterday. The meeting was held in the commission offices in the District Building and Gen. Mason M. Patrick, retired, commission chairman, simply told the company officers that the commission had been studying that and other questions and desired that the company submit its views in the near future. The conference was called, it was said, to discuss the price at which the company should mark out of its valuation the Fourteenth street power plant and office building which is to be abandoned soon to make way for the Federal building project.

The fact that other matters were discussed at the conference, however, was not disclosed by Gen. Partick or other members of the commission when inquiries were made by reporters. The fact that the conference had been called was not disclosed by commission officials in the first place and there was quite a stir within the commission when Gen. Patrick read about the conference in the newspapers and sought to learn which commission official or employe had disclosed the information.

HART SUGGESTS NOMINAL BOND FOR RUM CASES

DAVID A. HART.

Advice to Police Comes on Heels of Throwing Out of 13 Charges.

ACTION DIRECTED AT LAWLESS ARRESTS

Prosecutor Is Silent on Report Raiders Work With Bondsmen.

RECORDS OF FREED GROUP SCRUTINIZED

Man Liberated When Lawyer Says Patrolman Had No Warrant.

On the heels of his action of Monday in throwing out 13 out of 25 liquor charges made by police and in view of the investigation launched by Police Department heads into alleged illegal arrests made by police in their efforts to enforce the prohibition law, Assistant United States Attorney David A. Hart revealed yesterday that he had suggested that police assess only a nominal bond for liquor law violators, leaving the ultimate bond up to the United States attorney's office and the judges of Police Court or the United States commissioner.

Several protests have been heard recently about the bonds police have assessed after a raid, especially in view of the fact that when the cases reach Mr. Hart approximately 90 per cent of the defendants are held only for possession and their bonds are reduced from the $2,500 or $1,500 figure assessed by police to $500. Only in cases held for the grand jury or where a nuisance and possession charge are combined does the court fix bonds heavier than $500.

Suggests Small Bond.

The disclosure by Mr. Hart came in answer to a question as to whether he believed many of the illegal liquor raids were prompted by the fact that the raiders and the professional bondsmen were working in conjunction.

"I have nothing to say about that," said Mr. Hart, "but I have already made the suggestion that the police assess only a nominal bond when they arrest persons on liquor charges. Then when the cases reach us the next day and if we decide the defendant should be held under higher bond we can ask it."

That Police Court judges have taken cognizance of the high bonds fixed by police after a raid has been demonstrated in open court repeatedly during the last few months. At least one of the judges has made it almost a common practice to ask a defendant on a possession charge what bond he has made; and when informed that the bail was $1,500 or $2,500 has fixed that figure, instead of ordering the automatic reduction to $500.

Bean Inspects Reports.

Bond premiums in the District are 5 per cent, and recently bondsmen have been striving to raise the amount to double that figure.

Mr. Hart's action of Monday attracted the attention of high Police Department officials, and early yesterday Inspector Thaddeus Bean was in the assistant United State's attorney's office going over the records in the cases of the thirteen defendants who were liberated.

Mr. Hart had no comment to make about the matter other than to state that he believed "all police should be carefully advised as to when they can enter a place and when they can not."

No War With Police.

"Please say for me," said Mr. Hart, "that there is no war on between the United States attorney's office and the police. We are just trying to do the thing in a legal manner and in a way that will save a lot of lost motion and energy."

At the same time the prosecutor stated that he did not intend to

CAMPBELL HEARING TO BE HELD TODAY

Defense Will Call Goverment Witnesses in Fight Against His Removal.

STRATEGY IS DISCLOSED

Government witnesses have been subpenaed by Attorney Charles Henry Smith to testify in defense of Herbert M. Campbell, who today fights removal to the District for trial for the murder of Mary E. Baker.

United States Commissioner J. Barton Phillips will call the hearing at 11 o'clock today in the Alexandria Corporation Court to hear the Government evidence against the Arlington County real estate man.

Mr. Smith's action in summoning Mr. and Mrs. Hugh R. Wood and Mrs. Gwendolyn Parsons, who are considered as pivotal witnesses for the prosecution, came as a complete surprise to Assistant United States Attorney Callom B. Jones, of Richmond, Va., who will present the prosecution's case.

He is believed to have been prompted by a plan to upset the contention of the Government that the crime was committed in the District. Indications are that the defense will center its case about the question of venue.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood are two of the three witnesses who saw the attack on Miss Baker while her automobile was parked on the Ellipse at 6 o'clock on the night of April 11, the day before her body was found in a culvert in Arlington Cemetery.

Frank G. Campbell, brother of the accused, last night explained that Mr. Smith had contemplated summoning Francis Rice, the third witness of the Ellipse attack, but since Mr. Rice is on a vacation the defense did not wish to inconvenience him.

Mrs. Parsons is the woman with whom the prisoner admits spending part of the afternoon of April 11. While in her company, Campbell admitted to Lieut. Edward J. Kelly, he parked his automobile near the Sheridan gate of Arlington Cemetery, a short distance from where the murdered girl's body was found.

It is thought that Mr. Smith's motive in summoning her is to present her story of the occurrences on the afternoon of the murder and to act as one of the alibi witnesses for the defense.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood have partially identified Campbell as the assailant of the Navy Department clerk. Their identification came after they viewed

Calvin Coolidge Says:

Much attention very properly has been given to the damage from lack of rain. It is extremely serious in amount and human suffering. Every effort must be made for adequate relief.

Bad as this has been, it is nonrecurring, beyond human control and involves no moral blame.

While this calamity gets great attention, as it should, the report of a reliable authority that the yearly damage from crime is estimated at $7,500,000,000 goes almost unnoticed. This amount is more than one-half the entire agricultural production. It is an enormous tax on the resources of the people, being about 8 per cent of the national income, goes on constantly, ought to be largely preventable and represents a moral delinquency. Of this loss apparently little is chargeable to prohibition. Most of it represents violation of State laws.

This is one of the greatest challenges to good government. But fundamentally it is a question of good citizenship. The executives, National, State and municipal, the police and the courts can help. But the real remedy lies with the people. The laws will be enforced when the people clearly and emphatically indicate that they demand enforcement. But law is not enough. We need a change of heart.

Capital Builder Believed Victim of Kidnaping Plot

J. F. MILLS.

J. F. Mills Missing From Home Since Monday, Police Learn.

Police and a large group of his friends and relatives were conducting an intensive search last night for J. F. Mills, 59, of 30 Madison street northeast, head of the building contracting firm of J. F. Mills & Son, who disappeared mysteriously from his home Monday night.

From circumstances surrounding his disappearance, police are inclined to the theory that Mr. Mills may have been a victim of foul play, possibly the result of business rivalry, or that he may have been kidnaped by racketeers who are holding him for ransom.

Mr. Mills came home from work a few minutes before 9 o'clock Monday evening, his family told police at clog the docket of the Police Court by giving credence to cases where the entry was illegal or where there was insufficient evidence.

Whether Mr. Hart's action of Monday curbed police activities or not it was noted that only two cases were referred to him and that of the three defendants involved in them two of them were cleared without recourse to arraignment.

Ernest Womack, Negro, was liberated when Attorney John P. Mullen pointed out that the arresting policeman, E. C. O'Meara, had no warrant or probable cause for the arrest. O'Meara is alleged to have peeped through the keyhole of Womack's door and to have arrested the Negro when he emerged with several bottles of liquor in his clothes. Womack asserted that the liquor was for his own consumption.

Hunter Lee Jenkins, Negro, and his wife, Mary Lee Jenkins, were arrested Monday night by police on liquor charges, but Mr. Hart threw out the charge against the wife and accepted Jenkins' plea of guilty. As a result of the plea Jenkins received a sentence of $50 or 60 days.

Woman Asks Divorce; Corespondent Named

Dorothy M. Deroski, of 1601 Argonne place northwest, yesterday asked the District Supreme Court to award her an absolute divorce from Stanley J. Deroski, of Chapin street northwest near Fourteenth street. A corespondent is named.

Mrs. Deroski tells the court that she and her husband were married May 28, 1926, in Pennsylvania and that they lived together until he left her on April 9 last. She alleges that his desertion was caused by association with the other woman. Attorney Henry M. Fowler appears for the wife.

Ousted Merchants To Get New Haven

Center Market Men May Have Space at New York Avenue Project.

Another haven for Center Market merchants to be evicted by the Federal building program north of the Mall is forecast in a project planned by out-of-town interests for the square bounded by Ninth, Tenth and I streets and New York avenue northwest, it was learned yesterday.

Here, tentative plans call for erection of a large building, probably five stories or more in height, containing space for a bus terminal, swimming pool, bowling alleys, as well as store and stall space for Center Market merchants who must secure new locations.

Acquisition of necessary property for the project is now under way, it is understood, and its total estimated cost is reported at more than $2,000,000. The site is ideal for a building having the foregoing purposes in view, there being street railway lines in operation on New York avenue and Ninth street abutting the square, one on Eleventh street and another on Seventh street but one and two squares respectively removed from the contemplated structure.

There are now two projects under way to provide new business sites for Center Market dealers, the other being on a square, identity of which has not been divulged, and announced as "within five blocks of Eleventh and G streets northwest."

Wets' Successes Hailed by Baird

Indicate People Weary of Hypocrisy, Asserts G. O. P. Senator.

Victories of wet candidates in several senatorial primaries held so far this year show that the people are becoming weary of hyprocrisy in public life, according to Senator David Baird (Republican), New Jersey.

Senator Baird, who was not a candidate for reelection, said this situation was particularly noticeable in New Jersey following the declaration of Dwight W. Morrow, Republican senatorial candidate, in favor of repeal of the eighteenth amendment. He ascribed Morrow's overwhelming primary victory as due as much to his frankness as to his wetness.

Voters generally are becoming very tired of listening to dry pronouncements from candidates, known to be insincere in their dryness both in principle and personal habits, he said. The senator expects to see his belief vindicated by the returns in the fall elections and he disagrees with the belief recently expressed by Chairman Fess of the Republican national committee that prohibition will not be an issue.

INFORMER'S STORY BRINGS CONVICTION

Man Is Found Guilty of Rum Sale to Person Who Did Not Testify.

HART BREAKS OWN RULE

After Joseph M. Burke, a special informer of the police, took the stand yesterday and testified as to an alleged purchased of liquor on April 16, a Police Court jury late yesterday convicted Ernest McCall Jeffries as a result of a raid made on a warrant sworn to by a woman informer, who did not take the stand.

Jeffries was convicted on charges of nuisance and second offense possession as of May 6. Burke testified as to a raid made on April 16 as the result of an alleged "buy" made by him, while Marilyn Benjamin, who police alleged made a "buy" on May 6, did not testify.

In putting Burke on the stand Assistant United States Attorney David A. Hart, in charge of Police Court prosecution, broke a rule he made some time ago never to introduce special informers, special employes or stool pigeons of the police as witnesses.

Explaining his use of Burke as a witness, Mr. Hart said:

"I selected Burke as the witness in preference to the woman because his testimony could be corroborated. He was searched before he went to Jeffries' establishment. He was given marked money, and he was covered by at least four policemen when he went into the place. I have always asserted that police made their greatest mistake in using informers in not covering them properly.

"In this case, however, my policy was adhered to fully. Not only did the police cover him, but when he emerged they searched him and found the liquor he alleges he bought and no money. Armed with a warrant they entered shortly afterward and found the marked money and a quantity of liquor, which when analyzed proved to be the same stock.

"The buy made by the Benjamin girl was not so well covered and some one else handled the liquor she says she purchased before the police."

Statements on Conditions Credited to Secretary Branded Untrue.

(Associated Press.)

Secretary Mellon yesterday denied stories crediting statements to him in Pittsburgh Monday on the general business situation. Mr. Mellon said: "I made no statement whatever on business conditions, optimistic or otherwise."

The Secretary issued the denial after his attention had been called to published reports which said the stock markets had gained strength yesterday on the basis of the alleged Mellon statement.

While issuing the denial, Mr. Mellon was anxious that no interpretation be put on it. He said he simply wanted it understood he had not commented on the business situation and that he was not commenting on it.

Davis Sympathetic To Balchen's Plea

Calls Byrd Pilot Entitled to Naturalization That Is Blocked.

(Associated Press.)

Secretary Davis wants Bernt Balchen to be granted United States citizenship.

Difficulties are faced by the well-known pilot for Rear Admiral Byrd because of his absence from the country for a year preceding his petition to become a citizen, he having been at the South Pole.

The Secretary of Labor communicated yesterday to Raymond F. Crist, commissioner of naturalization, his view that because Balchen's service with the explorer "was exclusively on vessels of American registry, in company with Americans, and in part at least upon territory which, it is understood, has been claimed for the United States, this absence from continental United States may quite properly be construed by the court hearing his petition for citizenship as residence within the United States, within the meaning of the naturalization law."

CRAZED MAN SLAYS 3 OTHERS AND SELF

Row Over Legacy Causes Gardener to Kill Two Women and Man.

NEIGHBOR HEARS SHOTS

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 19 (A.P.).—Deranged by fear of losing his home and a legacy he had counted upon, Bernard J. Rutort, 45-year-old gardener, today shot and killed his elderly employer, her sister and her nephew, and then took his own life.

Mrs. Mary Parr, 75-year-old widow, for whom Rutort had worked 15 years, Mrs. Anna M. Collins, 77, of Philadelphia, and Leo Collins, Mrs. Collins' son, a Philadelphia church sexton, were found dead in Mrs. Parr's home at Pleasantville, near here. Rutort died in a hospital here after admitting the slayings.

The tragedy occurred shortly after Mrs. Collins and her son arrived at the Parr home for a visit. Police said a quarrel began over Rutort's residence in the home and his right to share in the estate. Collins was said to have attempted to eject the gardener from the house.

Mrs. Mae Walters, a neighbor, told police she heard sounds of an argument in the house and was startled by a succession of shots. She saw Rutort stagger from the doorway followed by Mrs. Parr. A woman passer-by called police and they found the mother and son dead in the kitchen and Mrs Parr dead in the garden. An automatic lay on the floor. Rutort was found mortally wounded.

Later police found Mrs. Parr's will in her room. It stipulated the estate should be divided equally among Rutort, Mrs. Collins and her son. They also found a note in Rutort's handwriting saying in part, "health and happiness and success are mine, I claim them in my name."

DRY BATTLE LOOMS IN BAR ASSOCIATION

Plea to Withdraw Mail Poll Is Refused on Eve of Convention.

THIRD DEGREE ATTACKED

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 19 (A.P.).—Prohibition threatened tonight to bring about a heated fight before the American Bar Association when that body formally opens is eighty-third annual convention tomorrow.

Spirited disagreement became imminent late today when the association's executive committee refused to withdraw a mail poll on the dry question. A group of members had demanded that the poll be abandoned.

The executive committee decided last spring to conduct the vote and cards were mailed July 1. Each member was sent two cards, one asking, "Shall there be a referendum on prohibition?" and the other, "Shall the eighteenth amendment be repealed?" When the voting ends in November, envelopes containing the answers to the first question will be opened. If the majority favor a referendum, the second cards will be counted, otherwise they will be burned.

"Lawless enforcement of law" drew the attention of early delegates to the city to attend sectional meetings today.

Third Degree Denounced.

A committee on the subject, delivering a report to the section of criminal law and criminology, denounced the third degree, which is charged is practiced extensively throughout the country, and criticized Chicago and other police for recent crime "round-up," which, the report said, have no warrant in law.

"Hundreds, even thousands, of men are haled to the police stations, looked over, quizzed, and after a few hours turned loose," the report said. "Out of a thousand arrested in such a raid, perhaps 60 or 70 may be held for minor offenses in no wise connected with the ostensible purpose for which the raid was made.

"It is one thing to suspect that A killed B. It is quite another thing to suspect that A is the sort of man who might kill some one and these raids have no basis except some such indefinite suspicion."

Illegal Search Charged.

Charging that officers break into and search dwellings without a warrant, contrary to law, and that suspected persons are whipped, beaten, kicked and threatened and otherwise tortured to force confessions, the report continues:

"The boldness with which the sheriffs, police and State's attorneys practice this lawlessness is astonishing and goes on despite protests and rebukes from the courts."

The report deplored the lack of statistics on the extent of the practice of the third degree and said that at least nine out of ten such cases are interred from the public view because they result in guilty pleas and never reach trial.

Capital Man Views Paris; Girl Takes His $10,000

Sympathetic-Looking Miss, Who Offered to Teach Paul McDonald French, Vanishes With Roll After Tour of Montmartre.

Paris, Aug. 19.—A chance encounter with "one of those French girls," and a personally conducted tour of Montmartre by night yesterday cost Paul McDonald, wealthy young engineer, of Washington, D. C., more than $10,000.

Paul cashed a check at the bank yesterday afternoon, intending to buy some machinery for the firm he represents and after supper wandered up the hill to Montmartre to see where all those white lights came from. On the way he met a sympathetic looking girl who offered to give him elementary French lessons free. This seemed a good bargain and McDonald, who is of Scotch descent, signed up for an intensive course.

The various bars and night clubs served as a class room until finally the young Yank, who was making progress, arrived at his hotel with his girl friend.

When Paul woke up this morning the girl was gone and so was his wallet containing the $10,000 and a few 1,000 franc notes. Paul immediately reported to the nearest police depot, but was unable to give a very good description of his companion. The only clue was a sketch of her face, made by a strolling artist while they were drinking on a cafe terrace. He was unable to describe her clothes except that there seemed to be very few of them. The police, guided by the sketch and other meager information furnished by McDonald, are searching for the missing girl.

CATHOLIC WOMEN ADOPT RESOLUTIONS

Urge Support of Candidates With Christian and Moral Principles.

JURY SERVICE OPPOSED

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 19 (A.P.).—Members of the National Catholic Women's Union were urged today in resoltions adopted at the annual convention here to assist in electing candidates for Congress and State legislatures this fall with "sound ethical, moral and Christian principles."

"Repeating the words of a distinguished English Catholic," said the resolution, "we would impress upon our Catholic women that 'from now on it will become more imperative for Catholics to defend morals rather than dogma.'"

The women were advised, however, to be guided by "conscientious and prudent intelligence."

Resolution against birth control, inordinate love of luxuries and jury service for women also were adopted at the convention, held in connection with that of the Catholic Central Verein of America.

August F. Brookland, of St. Louis, assistant director of the central bureau of the verein, speaking at the women's meeting, said persons who desire to impose jury service on women have a false conception of equal rights.

"Man," he said, "is at the head of the home and represents God in the family, while woman is his assistant and has not the same authority, though her role is as noble."

The verein today selected Fort Wayne, Ind., for the 1931 convention and cast ballots for new officers. The result will be announced tomorrow. Willibald Eibner, of Minneapolis, was nominated for the reelection to presidency and Valentin Peter, of St. Louis, in opposition.

Baltimore Fights Six-Alarm Blaze

Five Firemen Are Injured When Flames Break Out in Old Warehouse.

The old and abandoned Monticello Distillery Building at the corner of Guilford and Bath streets, in Baltimore, was almost leveled by fire that broke out on the first floor early last night and spread through the building. Six alarms were turned in and firemen battled for more than an hour before the fire was placed under control.

Five firemen were slightly injured but were able to return to duty after receiving first-aid treatment. Patients in the Mercy Hospital, four blocks away, were aroused by the smoke pouring into their windows. Nurses quieted them by assuring them there was no danger.

The building was used as a Baltimore concentration warehouse for whisky after prohibition forced it into idleness. Two years ago a paper company, the Thomas H. O'Connor Co., took over the building and used it as a paper storehouse.

FANATICISM RAPPED IN K. OF C. SPEECHES

Cardinal O'Connell, Curley Stress Evil in Talks at Boston Parley.

HISTORIC POINTS VISITED

Boston, Aug. 19 (A.P.).—Criticism of enforcement of virtue by statute and machine gun and a plea for settlement of the unemployment problem were addressed to the forty-eighth annual supreme convention of the Knights of Columbus here today by Catholic leaders in the church and in public life.

William Cardinal O'Connell, speaking of puritanism, said:

"Puritanism was an extreme, which, unchecked, was bound to lead to fanaticism. We wish we could say that there was nothing of this unsocial, uncongenial spirit left in America. But, alas, from time to time, we are made only too conscious of it by the enactment of laws and statutes which still indicate the spirit of the old testament and not that of the new.

"History proves that goodness and virtue and righteousness can not be forced on a people by statutes or by machine guns. But, while we shudder at the fierce austerity of puritan life, we would do well not to forget that luxury and wealth may lead to corruption even of the best and destroy the very foundation of this Nation, founded by sturdy men in poverty and privation."

Mayor James M. Curley, of Boston, who followed the cardinal, asked the knights three questions:

"Did you ever stop to consider how it is possible for a man to be a good citizen and a good Catholic if he travels in adversity?

"Is it not time that the intellect of America was applied to some character of solution of the age-old problem of banishing poverty from the richest nation in this world?

"I wonder if this land is incapable of settling the problem of unemployment, the breeding spot of poverty, disease, crime and ignorance?"

And Mayor Curley closed with the hope that the convention would give some thought to the subject.

This afternoon, following a business meeting, delegates numbering several thousand made an historical pilgrimage to Bunker Hill and to Lexington and Concord, where the American Revolution started. Tonight they were entertained by the presentation of the opera "Priscilla," given by the K. of C. Dramatic Society.

HIGH WAGES URGED TO BEAT DEPRESSION

New Jersey Capitalist Tells Hoover That Business Is on Up-Grade.

EMPLOYMENT PICKS UP

President Hoover was told yesterday by Eldridge R. Johnson, Moorestown (N. J.) industrialist, that high wages are the medium to "snap us out" of the present business depression.

Mr. Johnson, former president of the Victor Co., said there was evidence that business generally is on the up grade. He said an indication of this was seen in plans of the RCA-Victor Co. to enlarge its force by 5,000 men to a total of 17,500 before September 15; that the Campbell Soup Co. expects to have more employes by that date than ever before, and that the Pennsylvania Railroad has contracted for eletcric locomotive equipment running into millions of dollars.

The New Jersey capitalist gave it as his opinion that these were only isolated instances of a general movement toward business recovery.

Mr. Johnson said it was "far easier to resume on a high wage basis than it is on a low-wage basis, because on a high-wage basis everything begins where it left off right away, whereas on a low-wage basis it will take years to build up again to the old standard."

CAPITAL CONTRACTOR BELIEVED KIDNAPED

headquarters yesterday and after writing at his desk for about ten minutes, departed from the house with the explanation to his wife that he would be gone only a short time. Before entering the house he had parked his car in his garage in the rear, and did not take it out again when he left.

Thorough search of his papers and other effects failed to disclose any trace of a note or other explanation of his disappearance, and his family is unable to discern any reason why he should have vanished voluntarily, especially as he was in apparently excellent spirits all day Monday, although he had been in poor health for several years.

Relatives Aid in Search.

His son, Fred, his brothers, John T., W. S., and C. S. Mills, and his brother-in-law, J. N. Embrey, a cousin of Lieut. Walter Embrey, night chief of the detective bureau, yesterday assisted police in thoroughly scouring woods in the neighborhood of Mr. Mills' home, in the possibility that he might have been attacked by bandits and his body hidden in the underbrush.

A check of his bank accounts will be made today to determine if he drew any unusual checks, as might be the case if he were held by racketeers who would force him to pay money for his release. No such demands have yet been made upon any other member of his family, it was stated. A search also is being made to locate a blotter which may give a clew to the nature of whatever Mr. Mills wrote before leaving his home.

From the way in which Mr. Mills returned to his residence, wrote for a few minutes, and left, police see the possibility that en route home from business he may have met some one who asked him to return to some other place for a discussion or conference of some sort, and because Mr. Mills left his car in his garage, it is presumed that he either went to meet such other person waiting in another car outside, or that he went to the home of a neighbor.

Believed Taken for Ride.

The latter theory is given little credence, however, because it is pointed out that if he had called upon a neighbor and met with any misfortune, the neighbor would at once have notified his family. That he was "taken for a ride," both literally and figuratively, is therefore the assumption of the police.

At the time of his disappearance, Mr. Mills, who was 59 years old, was wearing horn-rimmed glasses, a dark blue suit with a faint stripe, high black shoes with moderately square toes, a white shirt with soft collar, an Odd Fellows ring and a heavy, large gold Odd Fellows charm on a gold chain.

He is 5 feet 10 inches tall, weighs about 150 pounds, has gray hair, is slightly bald, has blue eyes, a ruddy complexion, and a noticeably square jaw. On his left forearm are tattooed his initials, J. F. M., while on the upper part of the same arm, between the elbow and shoulder, are the tattooed letters Va. W. C. O. The middle finger on his left hand bends inward where it was broken at first joint several years ago.

WOMEN'S AIR DERBY WILL START FRIDAY

Elaborate Plans Made for Send-Off From Washington Airport.

FLYING STUNTS LISTED

Elaborate plans for the start of the Women's Dixie Air Derby, from Washington to Chicago, on Friday were being made at the Washington Airport yesterday, under the direction of A. K. Barta, president of the Aero Club of Washington, and Capt. Thomas Carroll, vice president of the airport in charge of airport activities. Although only three entries have been received to date for the race ending at the National Air Races, in Chicago, others are expected to participate in the contest, which is open to light planes. Cash prizes totaling more than $4,000 will be offered.

Balloon bursting, acrobatic flying and novelty features will attend the start of the race from Washington Airport Friday morning at 11 o'clock. The itinerary will include Richmond, Va.; Raleigh, N. C.; Columbia, S. C.; Atlanta, Ga.; Birmingham, Ala.; Memphis, Tenn.; St. Louis, Mo.; Springfield, Ill.; Elgin, Ill., and Chicago.

Among the three entrants listed to date is Miss Nancy Hopkins, of Washington; Mrs. Phoebe Fairgraves Omlie, of New York, and Mrs. Charity Langdon, of Norfolk, Va.

Thursday evening the contestants will be the guests of honor at a dinner to be given in the Willard Hotel by the Women's City Club, at which time Mrs. Omlie will award diplomas to ground school graduates of the Eagle Wings Flying Club, affiliated with the Women's City Club.

Jack Wynne, manager of Hoover Field, will be the official timer for the start of the derby, and timing devices will be in charge of W. B. Brombacher, chief of the aircrafts instruments section of the Bureau of Standards.

a wheel of her plane. Repairs were made quickly and her ship was on the line for the afternoon start.

Miss Barron showed the effects of her experience yesterday. She was very tired when she reached the night stop. In addition to the worry connected with the forced landing near Heber, Ariz., the effects of a 6-mile hike before she was able to catch a ride to Holbrook, Ariz., last night and her unscheduled return flight to Phoenix, she developed an infected heel which caused her considerable discomfiture. She finished the afternoon lap in third position, however, thirteen minutes behind the leader.

Miss Barron's elapsed time included the 17 hours 18 minutes between her take-off in Calexico yesterday and her arrival in Phoenix this morning, although she flew 220 extra miles, and her plane was in the cornfield nearly 14 hours.

Tomorrow the fliers will take off for Lordsburg, Deming and Roswell, N. Mex. There being three controls for the day, in the order of their landing here.

BIGGER ELECTRICITY RATE CUT SOUGHT

$2,448,000. The company wants to mark off its valuation at this cost figure. The commission, however, points out that the plant is in effect fictitious valuation figure—on which rates are based—at a much higher figure because "going concern" value and the replacement value of the property were figured into the valuation which had little or no relation to the amount it actually cost the company to build.

It was suggested that something like 10 per cent should be added to the cost figure when the property is deducted from the valuation. Richmond B. Keech, people's counsel, however, is convinced that cost price should be increased much more than this to arrive at a proper figure to charge off.

Another question touched on at the conference was the purpose of the commission to keep out of the company's valuation all installations and property paid for directly by the consumer. The company charges consumers for extensions for service, but also puts the cost of these extensions into its valuation. Another point was that property should not be included in the valuation while it is under construction.

NATIONAL DROUGHT RELIEF BODY NAMED

President Also Announces Severity of Conditions Has Been Confirmed.

HYDE COMMITTEE HEAD

(Associated Press.)

A national drought relief committee under the chairmanship of Secretary Hyde was appointed by President Hoover yesterday and will begin to function immediately in conjunction with State and county agencies in more than 300 counties.

Secretary Hyde will supervise the relief work from his office in the Department of Agriculture. He will have as assistants on the committee Chairman Legge, Federal Farm Board; Chairman Bestor, Federal Farm Loan Board; Gov. Young, Federal Reserve Board; Chairman Payne, American Red Cross; Chairman Aishton, American Railway Association; Ogden Mills, Undersecretary of the Treasury, and Henry M. Robinson, president of the First National Bank, Los Angeles.

County agents have been instructed by Secretary Hyde to watch feed shipments closely to prevent unwarranted price increases.

In announcing the committee, President Hoover said late reports had "confirmed the severity of the situation and the inevitability of distress over the winter in the acutely affected counties, which now apparently number something over 300."

Rains Improve Situation.

He added, however, that rains in the last few days had "stemmed the spread of the drought and greatly improved the situation outside the acutely affected areas."

In the drought sections, he continued, the destruction of crops has "proceeded to a point that is beyond any great degree of recovery, although pasturage should improve."

The President emphasized that from a relief standpoint the "burden of the problem in the acute area will show very much more vividly over the winter than at the present moment."

He said he had received from all sections of the drought region high appreciation of the railroads for their "prompt and constructive action" in cutting freight rates and added:

"It is a notable act of courageous cooperation and has been undertaken in the face of seriously reduced income due to the depression. It emphasizes the public interest of maintaining the strength and financial stability of our railways that they shall be able to cooperate in times of national difficulty."

Red Cross Prepared.

Pending completion of State relief committees, the President said, the Red Cross will see that no sufferers will go unaided. These committees are rapidly taking shape, he added, and are already creating their county organizations.

Mr. Aishton's task on the national committee will have to do with emergency freight rates while Robinson will concern himself with coordinating Federal, State and private credit activities.

The Red Cross will handle most of the individual relief work in cases where there is actual suffering. Chairman Payne said yesterday he expected that the entire $5,000,000 disaster relief fund would be needed. Only about 50 calls for help have been received thus far, Mr. Payne said, but he added that as time goes on the situation in some sections will be "desperate." He said he expected calls for help from 250 of the counties affected.

Secretary Hyde said the next step in the organization for relief work would be the further formation of relief committees in the various States and counties. The principal task of the national committee, he said, was the coordination of work of the different organizations.

The Secretary has suggested the formation of credit corporations in the South Atlantic States, where live stock feed is plentiful, to purchase cattle. In his opinion, the venture would not only be a means of saving stock, but should prove profitable.

Many letters have been received at the department from the South Atlantic States, including North Carolina, Georgia and Florida, offering free pastures for the use of farmers now without feed.

Only the big cattle raisers, Mr. Hyde said, would be able to avail themselves of such offers.

Women With Pay Roll Lose $3,776 to Bandits

Pittsburgh, Aug. 19 (A.P.).—Two women carrying $3,776 in an automobile for the pay roll of the North Side Laundry Co., were held up and robbed by three men today. The robbers escaped in an automobile after seizing a bag containing the money.

Miss Margaret E. Hood, bookkeeper for the company, was struck in the face when she hesitated to hand over the money at the bandits' request. The men threatened to shoot Miss Hood and her companion, Mrs. Albert F. Boucek, a clerk.

the late William E. Neff, he attended the McDonogh Military Academy at Baltimore and the Foreign Service School of Georgetown University, graduating from this institution in 1928, devoting much of his time to the Washington unit of the Naval Reserves, serving as an ensign.

Upon graduation, he took primary training in aviation at the Naval Reserve station at Squantum, Mass., and advanced training at Hampton Roads. He was assigned immediately to the U. S. S. Florida upon being commissioned an ensign on active duty. Resigning from the service, at Norfolk, he entered the employ of the Tropical Airways Corporation of Jacksonville, Fla.

Flying an Aeronca plane, he arrived early yesterday afternoon at the municipal field at Tampa from Orlando, Fla. In taking off about 25 minutes later on a return trip, a gust of wind struck under a wing and turned his plane over 50 feet from the ground. He died in an ambulance en route to a hospital.

He was married about two years ago to Miss Nan Louise Anderson, of Alexandria, Va., who left by train immediately to receive the body at Jacksonville and bring it here on a train arriving early tonight. Tentative plans have been made for interment in Arlington Cemetery.

The flier also is survived by two sisters, Miss Mary E. Neff and Miss Ruth Ann Neff, both of whom reside with their mother here.

CAMP HONORS WON BY CAPITAL YOUTHS

Several Capture Victories in Athletic Contests at Silver Lake.

ELMORE IS UNDEFEATED

Washington boys are carrying off many athletic honors at Camp Red Cloud, conducted at Silver Lake, Brackney, Pa., under the direction of Maj. Louis E. Lamborn, of the McDonough School of Baltimore.

In the aquatic division, George Elmore, of 1911 R street northwest, stands undefeated in the 14-year class back stroke, while John Seal, of 3363 Eighteenth street northwest, and Andrew Duvall, of 2128 Leroy place, have carried off places in intercamp diving in the same class. Elmore has been high-point winner in his class in all the intercamp track meets this season.

James Smith, of 1612 Taylor street northwest, has captured the broad-jump competitions, and his brother, Robert, is turning in good track performances. Robert Smith, Duvall and Seal are on the 14-year track team, while James Smith plays regularly on the 12-year team and Gordon Austin, of 2032 Belmont road, is No. 1 man on the 16-year tennis team and Duvall is No. 2 in the 14-year group. Jose and Tony Arias, of 2400 Sixteenth street northwest, have played on the 12-year tennis teams.

The following Washington boys are enrolled at the camp: Jose A. and Tony Arias, sons of Mrs. Margaret B. de Arias, 2400 Sixteenth street northwest; Gordon Austin, son of Mrs. Lenore H. Austin, 2032 Belmont road; William Bradford Dudley, son of C. W. Dudley, 5535 Nevada avenue; Andrew Bradley Duvall, son of Mrs. A. B. Duvall, 2138 Leroy place; George Sutherland Elmore, son of Mrs. Edith Sutherland Elmore, 1911 R street northwest; Jack Parker Horn, son of Mrs. E. Wannan, 504 Longfellow street northwest.

Campbell in the Arlington County Courthouse.

In addition to the three witnesses Mr. Smith will also present several who will tell of the alibi of Campbell. Among them are Mrs. Ruth Callahan Campbell, his wife; Edwin Callahan, his stepson, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Green.

Campbell's alibi is expected to play an important part in today's proceedings. Briefly it is that he was with Mrs. Parsons until 5 o'clock on the afternoon of the murder, that he was at his home in Virginia Highlands at 5:30 o'clock with his stepson, that at 6 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Green discussed a business matter with him.

At 7 o'clock he says he left his home and took his stepson to a Boy Scout meeting, which the scoutmaster corroborates. Then the remainder of the evening was spent with Mr. and Mrs. Roy K. Smith and Mrs. Marion Stuart at Hamilton, near sixth street northwest. Charles Postnoybt, an employe of Schneider's Bakery, accounts for his presence at 9:45 o'clock when he stopped there to make a purchase.

The Government had plans to rest the case on the presentment of the indictment and the murder warrant against Campbell. United States Attorney Leo A. Rover contends that the indictment is sufficient cause for establishment of the venue.

In the event that Commissioner Phillips today decides in favor of the Government, it is likely that the case will be brought for review to Federal Judge D. Lawrence Groner, at Norfolk, Va.

GOVERNOR SEEKING LYNCHERS' IDENTITY

Gardner Calls Hanging of Prisoner "Disgrace to North Carolina."

PROMISES PROSECUTION

Tarboro, N. C., Aug. 19 (A.P.).—A mob which early today lynched Oliver Moore, 29, Negro, confronted tonight the expressed determination of Gov. O. Max Gardner to see that its members are prosecuted.

The governor, who is on a vacation in the western part of the State, characterized the lynching as a "disgrace to North Carolina." Late today he was undetermined whether the State would make an investigation independent of that of Sheriff W. E. Bardin, of Edgecombe County, but said the sheriff had "the State back of his county forces."

Moore, a tenant farmer, who was accused of attacking his landlord's two small daughters on July 18, was taken from the Edgecombe County Jail here by the mob shortly after midnight and carried into Wilson County near the scene of his crime. The mob strung Moore from a tree and shot him to death.

Moore's nearest relative, Andrew Moore, a brother, refused to claim the body and Sheriff Bardin made arrangements to bury it in potter's field.

The coroner's jury, drawn from Wilson County, reached no verdict.

Deputy R. O. Watson, who lives at the jial, said there were 200 men, most of them masked, in the mob. He said he attempted to telephone Sheriff Bardin, but before he could do so the mob had smashed in the door. With drawn pistols, the masked men forced him to surrender the cell keys and took Moore.

Moore was captured Thursday and was given a preliminary hearing yesterday. He was ordered held without bond. Both girls are now in a hospital here.

Today's lynching was the first in North Carolina since 1921 and was the first in Wilson County.

BALTIMOREAN FEARED LOST FROM YACHT

July 31. He planned to visit his island home in the Chesapeake.

Because of the flights, beginning in 1927, which took him around the world, to the Dutch East Indies and to South Africa, a total of approximately 125,000 miles, Mr. Black was more widely known than as a publisher, capitalist and leader in civic affairs, though he had been a chief figure in Baltimore for years. He was known as the richest man in Maryland.

Though far from penniless as a youth, he is credited with having carved out his own fortune and career. Born at Cumberland, Md., in 1875, he was brought by his parents to Baltimore when 7 years old, attended orivate schools until he was 16, and later entered the Belmont School, near Boston.

Started Career as Clerk.

He started his career as a clerk in the old Fidelity Trust & Deposit Co. and in 1920 was elected president of the company and about the same time made chairman of the board of the Fidelity & Deposit Co., which had taken over the bonding business of the other concern. Until recently he had been director in numerous big banking and industrial concerns here and in New York, but was active of late in but a few.

Mr. Black became an unusual figure in many respects as a publisher from the time he became the leading voice of the A. S. Abell Co., publishers of the Baltimore Sun and the Evening Sun. With his associates, he took the position that formulation of editorial and news policies was the business of professional newspaper men, and left the Sun papers' editors free to pursue their traditional liberal policy.

In his entire career Mr. Black accepted but two minor public offices. He gave freely of his time to civic affairs, working day and night in the Liberty Loan campaign in the World War, backing the Walter Hines Page School of International Law at Johns Hopkins University, and taking part in other activities.

Aviation Claimed Interest.

Aviation claimed a great part of his interest when the Wright brothers developed their plane. In 1927 he chartered a plane in Holland, touring the continent, asserting then, as he maintained when he made the later and more ambitious flights, that he was interested in demonstrating the possibilities of commercial aviation.

That year he flew from Amsterdam to Batavia, Dutch East Indies. With him then and in subsequent flights he had two pilots and used his own plane.

Next he started a flight from London to Cape Town, South Africa, but an accident ended this attempt. Later the African tour was made. His best-known trip was around the world this year. From London to Tokyo, approximately 12,500 miles, he required 113 hours flying time.

Crossed Pacific Aboard Ship.

After crossing the Pacific aboard ship he flew with his Dutch pilots, John B. Scholte and Gerrit J. Geysendorfer, from San Francisco to Baltimore, arriving May 19.

A flight around South America was next on his program.

He and his wife, who was Jessie A. Gary, daughter of former Postmaster General James A. Gary, had five children—two sons, Van Lear, jr., and Gary, and three daughters, Mrs. T Buchanan Blackiston, Mrs. Alfred T. Bolton, and Miss Madeline Black. A brother is Harry C. Black, of Baltimore.

Lakehurst, N. J., Aug. 19 (A.P.).—The Navy dirigible, Los Angeles, will take off again at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning to aid in the search for Van Lear Black. The chief of naval operations in Washington telephoned orders for the ship to proceed to a point about 12 miles south of the entrance of New York Harbor, believed to be the spot where Black fell overboard.

On a training flight late today, the airship passed near the point, but no trace of the body was found.

Seagirt, N. J., Aug. 19 (A.P.).—At the request of Gov. Roosevelt of New York, Coast Guardsmen were searching the New Jersey shores from Asbury Park to Sandy Hook tonight for the body of Van Lear Black.

Gov. Roosevelt sent his message to Gov. Morgan F. Larson at the summer white house at Seagirt. The governor turned it over to the Coast Guards.

Several pieces of fire-fighting apparatus were sent to an underbrush fire last night after residents in the vicinity of Blue Plains and Congress Heights had asked for protection for their homes.

Jane Interprets the Mode

Black and white and purple touches make a stunning fall ensemble. (Courtesy of Maison Premet, Paris.)

Paris, Aug. 19.

TO the Spanish woman, whether her birthplace be Spain or the Andes, Mexico or the Sierra, the shawl is a social badge. The original Spanish shawls were brought to Spain from—where do you think? China! And traveling much farther than that, both literally and actually, we find that the word shawl is of Persian inspiration, and was originally "shal."

The spelling may change, the pronunciation may change, the Spanish shawl may come from China, and the first shawl probably appeared on Eve—but in effect the shawl will ever be a social badge.

And it takes true grace and loveliness to manipulate a shawl! You can not deny that some women wear a shawl around their torsos and hug it to them for dear life—others fold it sanctimoniously around their shoulders in the way one knows one would handle a sackcloth, were one to indulge in repentance in sackcloth and ashes.

Then there is the cavalier way to wear a shawl, and the defiant way to wear one, and the way of wearing one as though it were the shell of an armored tank. In short, there are ways and ways to wear a shawl other than the lovely, gracious and graceful way to wear one. And it is only a graceful woman than can wear one correctly.

So a shawl is truly a social badge inasmuch as it indicates the cultural extent of one's life.

Having once seen Raquel Meller handle a shawl, we are quite able to understand how the shawl is a social badge in Spain!

But let's go from the esthetic to the practical—and say a few words about our idea of a smart modern woman's fall wardrobe. The few words are that you won't regret it if you send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare department of The Washington Post for this week's illustrated leaflet, because it tells you how to assemble about six different parts of a fall ensemble in such a way that you have fifteen or more complete outfits, each one different, and each one to be worn with the same set of accessories. Doesn't it sound interesting? It is!

Quite a haute V couturiere touch, that—of putting purple here and discreet-lee there on a black and white wool ensemble! And there is a white gilet all fine pleated, too. Chic!

'Tis time to do a bit more than predicting, and here is a statement. The new evening gowns show a decided tendency to be straight and long, to the floor—and not too much fluffies at the hem. A further look of alimness is achieved by elongation of the fitted hip.

And here's the reminder to look in The Sunday Washington Post for the weekly Dare fashion letter.

A Goofus Version of Moby Dick

This is an old time Goofus tale
Of Algernon—a Goofus Whale,
Who used to lay in wait for ships,
He'd sink with tons of puns and quips.
He'd spout

Before they knew he was about.
One day, so goes this Goofus tale,
A comic artist met this Whale.
The end is sad; Algernon harpooned
By one of his own jests, cartooned!

Indoor and Outdoor Gardens

By JANE LESLIE KIFT.

CANNAS, GLADIOLUS AND DAHLIAS.

THIS is the time when we must pay some definite attention to our cannas, gladiolus and dahlias if we would have them fulfill their real mission and be "things of beauty and joys forever."

As I said in the beginning of the season, the soil in which cannas are to do their best must be worked very deep and made very rich. Although a swamp plant, they will do with less water if they are afforded a rich soil. At this time it is well to apply a sprinkling of sheep manure, which should be thoroughly watered down. Merely scatter this over the soil, then with a forceful stream from the garden hose carry it down to the feeding roots.

As soon as a flower is through blooming, cut it off, for this will encourage the plant to produce more blooms. At no time must a seed pod be allowed to form, for if this happens an entire new growth must be made before the plant will flower again.

Gladiolus are the flowers which are said to grow in all soils and climates and under almost all weather conditions. They are so dependable that we practically never hear of any one's failing with them.

Just now, when your gladiolus flowers are ready for cutting, I want to explain a phase of their culture that most amateurs and even many experienced growers do not understand. The size and value of the corms for another year will depend upon the proper growth and maturity of the leaves at this time. For this reason when cutting the flowers be sure to leave two or, better still, three leaves on the plant; otherwise the corms will not be large.

At this time be sure to keep the weeds from encroaching on the soil about ther roots, for they need all the food available.

The main secret of success with dahlias is to keep them growing. Remove all buds early and do not let any develop until the latter part of this month. The reason for this is that most of the early buds are imperfect due to the plant at that stage of its career being rather weak.

All dahlias are, or at least should be, mulched. This is also the time when they should be fed. All fertilizers must be applied directly to the surface. Simply move the peat moss or other mulch material to one side and spread the fertilizer in a ring two or three inches wide and nine inches away from the plant; then replace the mulch and apply a forceful stream from the garden hose which will carry the food down to the feeding roots.

All readers' questions on growing and care of indoor and outdoor flowers and floral decorations for social functions will be answered by Miss Kift, directly in this column if addressed in care of The Washington Post, or directly to readers if a self-addressed, stamped envelope is supplied.

What Today Means to You

By MARY BLAKE

"LEO."

IF AUGUST 20 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:30 a. m. to 9:30 a. m., from 1 p. m. to 2 p. m. and 11 p. m. to midnight. The danger periods are from 11 a. m. to noon and 6 p. m. to 7 p. m.

Adverse influences on this date for females—man's world seems more favored and protected. An important business deal—secret and heated discussions. Be careful of partnerships and false friends. Nervous anxiety.

Children born on this August 20 will have fruitful, imaginative minds, and will be eager students—a delight to their teachers. They will be mischief-loving and up to innocent pranks. If they be boys, they will be typical "boy scouters." If they be girls, they will be clever with the needle.

You are what is known as an "out-of-door" man or woman, and it would be the height of folly for you to attempt a sedentary career, imprisoned within four walls. Such an act would be courting disaster. You are never physically or mentally fit without plenty of exercise and fresh air. You do not crave constant companionship. You would rather be by yourself than submit to the companionship of an uncongenial second party. A certain amount of solitude is restful to you—you enjoy silent contemplation. You do not have to be part of a herd to be happy, and you are not afraid without its protection.

You do not fear work, and you do not try to shed your responsibilities—the more you have, the happier you seem to be. You seem to be able to get fun out of everything you are obliged to do. Your pleasures are cheap. A very big thing about you is that you dare be unconventional. You are not easily tempted to spend more than your income. You do not do things just because they are "smart," unless backed by better reasons. You do not set such a high value on money, that you miss the things which money can not buy. You have a grownup intellect, but you will always have the heart of a child. It often hurts you to do the things which hard, cold reason makes you do. You hate any from of cruelty and you loathe the injustices of the world. You pray for love and kindness to all.

Successful people born August 20:

1. Samuel L. Mitchell, "the nestor of American science."
2. Valentine Mott, surgeon.
3. James J. Jarves, art critic.
4. Benjamin Harrison, twenty-third President of the United States.
5. Paul Dana, proprietor of the New York Sun.
6. Edward C. Butler, diplomat and author.

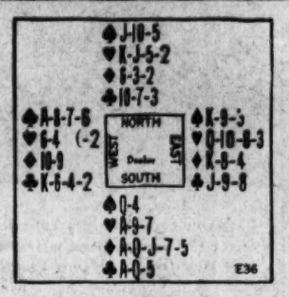
WORK ON BRIDGE



The above hand was played at Auction Bridge. South bid one No Trump and there was no other bidding. In Contract South would have bid two No Trumps, and North three.

In the play West led the Six of Spades, dummy played small and East's King took the trick, South playing his small Spade. East returned his Nine of Spades, South played the Queen and West ducked so as to establish the suit against North's Jack. West assumed that if East could obtain the lead in time game would be saved; if East did not have another Spade, West probably would get in with the King of Clubs to run the Spades.

South's Spade Queen winning the second trick, he realized that if either adversary obtained the lead it would be farewell to his hopes for a game; he also appreciated that he must lead Diamonds twice from dummy and that the only way to obtain the requisite dummy leads was by finessing Hearts. The Jack finesse in Hearts, however, lost to East's Queen; East then led a Spade and game was saved.

Could you have made more?

The Correct Play.

The game was easy for a Declarar who before playing from the South hand to the first trick could foresee that a sound player in the West position would duck the second round of Spades. South should have played his Queen of Spades on East's King; then if West held up his Ace on the second round, North would win and lead a Diamond. If West did not hold up, North would win the third Spade and make the same Diamond play.

When the first Diamond finesse won, no attempt would be made at a Heart finesse, but North's King would win and a second Diamond finesse would be taken. In that way the Declarer would make one Spade, two Hearts, five Diamonds and one Club.

Comfortable for hours
. . . that's why Kotex
is essential in summer

How comfortable is your sanitary protection after one . . . two . . . or three hours of wear? Read how Kotex' softness lasts.

IT is really amazing how Kotex stays soft, even when it must be worn for hours in warmest weather.

Other forms of sanitary protection may seem comfortable when first adjusted. But you know how quickly that surface-softness disappears . . . how soon the pad begins to pack . . . then how often chafing occurs.

All so unnecessary! . . . now that Kotex is sold everywhere, and at such a reasonable price.

Cellucotton explains softness

Kotex is made of Cellucotton (not cotton) absorbent wadding . . . the lightest, most absorbent substance which can be used. It absorbs 16 times its own weight in moisture—5 times more than cotton or any cotton material!

The Cellucotton is laid in many layers, each tissue-thin. This permits circulation of air, and keeps the pad soft and delicate.

The pads are rounded and tapered, so they really fit, and are never conspicuous. Kotex deodorizes, too. And it is so easily disposed of.

Hospitals use Kotex absorbent

A striking testimony to the superiority of the Kotex absorbent is the fact that 85% of the leading hospitals use it in preference to fine surgical cotton.

Please try Kotex. You'll see how no detail of comfort has been overlooked.

Kotex Company, Chicago, Illinois.

KOTEX IS SOFT...

1—Not a deceptive softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. But a delicate, lasting softness.

2—Kotex filler is far lighter and cooler than cotton, yet absorbs 5 times as much.

3—Deodorizes, safely, thoroughly by a special process.

4—Disposable, instantly, completely.

Regular Kotex—45c for 12
Kotex Super-Size—65c for 12

AFTERMATH OF THE DROUGHT.

Secretary Hyde believes that the drought crisis is about over. Basing his opinion on weather reports from the most seriously affected areas, which indicate that precipitation since the first of the week has been sufficient to save a goodly share of crops that heretofore have been considered ruined, he says: "The dry spell is broken, and the main thing now is rehabilitation, which falls first and largely on the States and the local communities." The Government, of course, will carry forward its relief and rehabilitation program, but recent studies of the stricken areas and of market conditions indicate that the country exaggerated the drought damages.

It was pointed out frequently during the height of the drought scare that the supply of human foodstuffs was not generally affected. Live stock feed was principally damaged. It was reported that farmers were forced to sacrifice their stock at whatever price the market would bring. But the Bureau of Agricultural Economics has found little evidence of forced marketing of live stock because of the drought. Live stock prices, it says, have declined materially in recent months because of weakened consumer demand, but receipts of cattle at all public markets in July were 13 per cent smaller than in July, 1929, and 17 per cent below the 5-year average and market receipts of hogs were about 12 per cent less than in July of last year. Sheep and lamb marketings thus far this year have been much larger than the average, but this, says the bureau, is due to the fact that in recent years sheep production has expanded considerably. "In the sections that have been hit hardest by the drought," says the bureau, "it is probable that some stock may go to market that otherwise would be retained on the farm if feed and pasturage were more plentiful. These sections, however, have only a small proportion of the country's live stock supplies."

The bureau reports that "rail shipments of leading fruits and vegetables were well sustained throughout the country over the last week-end and showed only seasonal fluctuations in shipments of individual products." Except for potatoes, none of the importnat staple crops registered decreases. "Retail prices of fresh produce in the principal larger city markets," the bureau says further, "have not been seriously affected by the drought because the shortage in local produce has been met by shipments from a distance."

These are reassuring reports. They emphasize the soundness of the food supply machinery; they indicate the independence, in this country of great distances and widely varying climatic conditions, of local adversity, and they expose the unscrupulousness of profiteers who have taken advantage of the drought scare.

Prices have been boosted because there was a handy excuse that lack of rain had reduced food production. In New York City, notwithstanding the fact as reported by Health Commissioner Wynne, "that receipts of fresh fruits, vegetables and dairy products are in excess of receipts at the corresponding season of last year and that wholesale prices are even lower than they were at this time last year," an official board of investigators has uncovered intimidation, racketeering and hoodlum rule in connection with price lifting during the drought scare. The price of milk was boosted nearly $1 for a 40-quart can in a period of one week.

The chief concern of the various State drought relief boards and of the Government should be to prevent the exploitation of the public on the false claim of curtailed production resulting from the drought. Secretary Hyde's instructions to county agents, holding them responsible for seeing that the benefit of reduced freight rates on feed shipments is obtained by the farmer and not by feed dealers, is a step in the right direction.

CAPT. EAKER'S MISHAP.

Washington rejoices in the lucky escape from death of Capt. Ira Eaker, who took to his parachute when the plane he was testing over Anacostia the other day could not be brought out of a tail spin. Capt. Eaker was chief of the crew that flew the plane Question Mark to the first noteworthy refueling endurance record, and recently he has been on duty at Bolling Field as pilot for Air Corps chiefs. He escaped with a sprained ankle and a minor cut or two, but the plane was completely wrecked 50 feet from a house located in Nichols avenue.

While rejoicing in the escape of Capt. Eaker, Washington shudders at the tragedy that might have occurred. The plane crashed not far from a group of children at play. A sudden gust of air might have tossed it directly upon the house it so narrowly missed. Anacostia is a thickly populated section. Pilots endanger many lives when they stunt or test planes above Anacostia.

The Naval Air Station's stunt team did its practicing out in the country or directly over the field. Capt. Eaker's accident suggests the need of a general flying regulation prohibiting Bolling Field pilots from testing or stunting planes over the city. Civilian pilots are barred by Department of Commerce regulations from engaging in potentially dangerous maneuvers over populated areas. A similar ban should be applied to service pilots.

HOPING FOR HARD TIMES.

The Democratic national committee is working itself into such a frenzy over what it terms the "Hoover panic" that a good many voters will be disappointed when they discover that the next presidential election is more than two years off. It is hard to realize that Jouett Shouse, executive chairman, is merely trying to win votes for Democratic candidates for Congress when he keeps his campaign guns trained on the White House. The guileless voter is further confused by the fact that Mr. Shouse exonerates Congress of evil doing, in many cases, and heaps blame for everything from the business depression to the "hatred of other nations" upon the President.

It is indeed disheartening when the Democratic party can not take advantage of this period of depression with which to take the White House by storm. The depression is poorly timed for Democratic purposes. By the time the next presidential campaign gets under way the present depression will have been superseded by another burst of activity, and the "issue" will have disappeared, in spite of Mr. Shouse's hope that the country will continue to suffer hard times.

What the Democratic party is really seeking is control of the House. To obtain this it must win at least 54 seats from the Republicans. With the aid of the insurgents the Democrats already are able to make plenty of trouble in the Senate. The fight therefore is concentrated upon winning a majority in the House. Since most contests out in the congressional districts are of a local nature, the fireworks set off in Washington will prove to be only harmless flares. Even if Mr. Shouse were able to completely smear the White House with charges of inefficiency and iniquity, voters out in the districts would still wish to choose congressmen on their own merits.

If the Democratic national committee were to be very candid as to its aspirations, its plea to the country would run something like this: The country is in the throes of an economic depression; elect a Democratic Congress so that the administration can be thwarted, and hard times will continue until the campaign of 1932, when a Democratic victory could be expected.

In vain will the Republican leaders challenge Mr. Shouse to bring forth the program with which he hopes to ameliorate conditions. It is to the advantage of the Democratic leaders to keep the country in a parlous state for a couple of years. They fear a return of prosperity above all things. They are doing everything possible to prevent the return of good times.

TAX MONEY WASTED.

The high cost of government is to be subjected to scrutiny in New York. In the belief that $10,000,000 annually is being wasted on government in that State the New York Economic Council will make an exhaustive study of expenditures and will lay its recommendations before the Legislature.

Federal, State and local government, the council points out, cost the average family $460 in 1929 compared with $135 in 1913. The average person gives the equivalent of six weeks of his working year toward defraying the expenses of government. Most of this amount goes to local and State institutions, which are becoming more expensive every year. The tendency in Federal taxation has been toward lower rates, but local levies continue to climb.

Increased local taxes are usually a direct result of extended social service. Governmental facilities have expanded in response to a general demand from the public. But in this haphazard process of growth economy is frequently sacrificed. The present movement in New York does not contemplate any reduction of governmental service, but every effort will be made to uncover waste and duplication of functions. It is a move toward economy and not curtailment.

The economic council, which is undertaking this work, was originally organized to combat the migration of industry from New York because of high taxes. A less public-spirited group might have sought to shift the tax burden, or to eliminate social service that is beneficial to the public. If the campaign is confined to the elimination of waste the public in general will benefit.

The States could well take a lesson in public finance from the Federal Treasury. Federal taxes have been steadily reduced since the war, yet revenue has increased as a result of stimulated business. States that are trying to draw industry to their doors, or hold the industries they have, can make a good start toward solving their problem by eliminating waste and duplication and returning the divdends to the public in the form of reduced taxes.

INDIA'S DEADLY BOYCOTT.

Reports are current that Mahatma Gandhi has agreed to halt the Indian revolution if satisfactory pledges of dominion status are forthcoming and political prisoners freed. It can not be assumed that this move presages an early end of the civil disobedience campaign. Gandhi has asked the Labor party for something which it is unable to give. It appears that, with his characteristic Oriental subtlety, he is trying to put Great Britain on the defensive and thus strengthen his appeal to India's revolting natives.

Should such an agreement be entered into, it is by no means certain that Gandhi could fulfill its terms. The Indian leader knows too well that it is easy to ignite a conflagration, but difficult to extinguish it. His offer is no doubt intended to win converts to the revolution more than to elicit pledges of dominion status. Furthermore, if the British government should comply with this demand, the Nationalists would realize their power, and a more drastic ultimatum could be expected later.

The chief significance of Gandhi's demand seems to be its indication of growing strength on the part of the revolutionists. Gandhi is in prison, but the boycott of British goods which he initiated is being carried forward by millions of faithful followers. It is estimated that British trade, chiefly in cotton goods, has diminished 40 per cent in three months. Pickets guide the public away from stores where British goods are sold, and prejudice steadily gains momentum.

The effect which this boycott will have on Great Britain is not difficult to determine. Many cotton mills in Lancashire are closing, more men are thrown into unemployment, and more ships are left idle. Trade that is denied to Britain goes to Japan, the United States and other nations. Japanese imports into India are said to be gaining rapidly, and all non-British goods are held in high favor. England is already suffering from an extensive loss of foreign markets, and if India is to be gradually closed to British exports, industry in the mother country will be confronted with new staggering losses. The shutdown of cotton mills in England has had a repercussion in diminished demands for American cotton, which have depressed the price in the American exchanges.

This campaign is more effective than armed resistance could ever be. From the military standpoint India is weak, but British arms are of no avail against a boycott. The new competitors who are gaining a foothold at the expense of the British can not be driven out.

For the Labor government in London this situation means untold distress. More than 2,000,000 workmen are already unemployed, and the closing of the cotton mills will throw additional thousands upon the bounty of the government. Prime Minister MacDonald faces the alternative of levying a heavy tax on manufactured goods, which would add to the distress of merchants trying to maintain their markets in India, or reducing the dole, which would bring about suffering on a large scale.

If the British government fails to heed Gandhi's demand, the destruction of British trade will be carried forward. Should the government yield, the Nationalists will be in a good position to make new demands. It appears that Gandhi has the inside track, and that Britain faces inestimable losses whichever way she may turn.

THE TREATY NAVY

From the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Since the Senate voted its consent to ratification of the London naval treaty and went home, hardly an echo has been heard of the most important international event of the year—or, for that matter, the most important event of the decade. Even at the Williamstown Institute of Politics, where the great affairs of the world are discussed each summer, little attention has been paid to the treaty.

But down in Washington the General Board of the Navy has been busy. It is drawing up plans for submission to Congress specifying the amount of new construction and replacement which will have to be undertaken during the five-year treaty period. The General Board has estimated that "$989,460,000 must be spent from 1931 to 1936 to give the United States Navy its maximum allowable strength."

At the same time, small-navy forces are preparing to attack American naval developments at the next round, when Congress will be asked for appropriations and authorizations. They will make much of "billion-dollar parity" with Great Britain.

The reason for the seemingly large expenditure of $200,000,000 a year on naval construction is obvious. During the nine years since the Washington conference, the United States spent an average of about $48,000,000 annually on naval building. Up to January 1, 1929, this country had laid down or appropriated for eleven naval vessels, exclusive of small river gunboats. The figures for the other powers were: Japan, 125; France, 119; Italy, 82; Great Britain, 74. The treaty provides for bridging this disparity, so far as Great Britain and Japan are concerned, and this undertaking must be paid for.

The total of $989,000,000 spread over five years looks larger than it is in reality. If the item of replacements—which would in any case have to be made—is deducted, the cost of actual new construction falls to about $500,000,000. Thus the new ships will cost an average of $100,000,000 a year. If even half this amount had been spent annually during the last ten years, there would be no need now for the doubling-up process.

There has been a good deal of talk about not building up to maximum treaty strength. There is a well-defined inclination, for example, to omit the sixteen 6-inch-gun cruisers which the full program would call for. Senator Reed, taking no account of replacements or of these sixteen vessels, has said that the United States could get parity with Great Britain at a cost not to exceed $350,000,000.

Some American naval experts doubt the suitability of 6-inch-gun cruisers to our needs. On the other hand, however, Rear Admiral Moffett pointed out the other day that this cruiser, fitted with a landing deck for airplanes—which the treaty permits—would be the equal of a cruiser armed with 8-inch guns but lacking such a deck.

The Navy is already preparing to scrap a number of vessels before the dates specified in the treaty, thus emphasizing this country's nonaggressive and noncompetitive intentions. Congress should also be prepared to adopt a program for construction up to the treaty limit. Only on this basis can the American Navy be made impregnable in its home waters as the British and Japanese are in theirs. Any other course will greatly impair the value of the London treaty. Congress should not be permitted to evade this plain obligation.

PAIN.

There is no easy pain to bear,
Who has an aching tooth will swear—
The toothache is life's chiefest curse—
That naught man suffers can be worse.
Yet just as loud a cry he'll make
Who wakens with a stomach ache.

The man who has a twisted knee
In every twinge finds misery.
Whatever be the form of pain
Until comes sweet relief again
The sufferer is sure he knows
The very worst of mortal woes.

And yet I fancy, had we powers
To trade another's pain for ours
We should not care such risk to run
Nor like the bargain when 'twas done.
For pain, whatever be its source
Hits never lightly, but with force.

Who suffers pain has need of friends
Until his time of torture ends.
Unhappy he, whate'er the cause
Who in his misery finds no pause.
Whate'er the source of man's despair,
There is no easy pain to bear.

When Steers Drop to 6 Cents a Pound, a $5,000 Cow Still Brings $5,000.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

YESTERDAY a boy in his teens came to me and said: "I must make my own way in the world and I don't know how to begin. What should I learn to do?"

It is a question asked by puzzled millions year after year, but it is one easily answered.

There are at present many thousands of men—laborers, mechanics and artisans—who can find no work, yet now as always the great industries search in vain for young men qualified to handle good jobs.

One of the most prominent industrialists said a few days ago: "We have in our organization 1,400 college trained engineers and we have room for as many more as we can get."

That answers the boy's question. The employer can find ten thousand men for the unimportant job, but he can't find one man for the ten-thousand-dollar job.

The boy who is free to choose his calling should study the world's demands and prepare himself to render the service most needed.

Peaches shipped to the New York market will bring $4.75 a basket today, yet tomorrow, when the market is glutted, they won't fetch enough to pay the freight.

So the youth who qualifies himself to do necessary work that few can do may fix his own salary, while the one who competes with thousands for a job anybody can handle must accept the wage fixed by a glutted market.

That is all very well, you say, but how can a boy know what kind of work he is by nature fitted to do.

The answer is that a man who has brains enough to do one thing well can do another with equal success.

Artists are exceptions, of course. They are born with a talent denied to others.

But this talk of round pegs in square holes is nine parts nonsense. As a general rule, the man who fails in a square hole wouldn't do much better in a round one.

Success in any case depends upon brains, and the man who has brains enough to win in one field can win in another.

The important thing is to find the best market for brains and train yours to win that particular market.

THE ONCE OVER

BRINGING BACK THE HOUR-GLASS FIGURE.

Paris is at it again. Its mid-August decrees on what the well-dressed woman should wear are being broadcast with the usual air of finality, and from the style czars comes the word that the properly attired woman of this winter and next spring must look no little like a museum piece.

* * * *

The styles of 1880 are being revived and you can get this winter's patterns and style suggestions by the simple process of looking through the family album.

* * * *

Worth, Poiret and the other boys who make women's clothing a seasonal problem, came out for the balloon sleeves some weeks ago. Now they decree for evening wear the princess bodice, flounced skirt, hiked-up back and bustle sash.

* * * *

A fortune can be made by any smart American by selling old pen-and-ink sketches by Charles Dana Gibson as patterns for women's and misses' clothing.

* * * *

Last year the women of America declared they would never go back to the styles of five years ago, but this season they are asked to go back half a century. And they'll do it. There will be the usual October revolution against Parisian decrees, but all the girls will be out there dressed for the Grover Cleveland Period Masquerade by Christmas.

* * * *

The idea this time is to make the American girl look like her grandmother.

* * * *

But it is going to be a distinct shock to see a facsimile grandma sitting on top of the piano with a bottle of gin and throwing off a smoke screen from her fifty-fifth cigarette that evening.

* * * *

If we want to make the modern girl look like her grandmother we have got to go deeper than Worth or Poiret.

* * * *

No matter what she wears the sweet young creature of 1930 is not going to synchronize with old family portraits while she still clamors for stronger tobacco and goes riding from party to party on the running-board of some goofy duke's roadster.

* * * *

The attempt to recreate grandmother in Miss 1930 is doomed to failure. Even if Paris put her on a high-wheeled bicycle she would be easily identified the moment she started bawling out traffic policemen, necking in public and complaining because the house party punch had no kick in it.

YOU KNOW HOW IT IS.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Would Honor Jefferson, Hamilton and Marshall in Naming Boulevards.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: In my communication to your paper recently, suggesting that B street northwest and the proposed thoroughfare connecting B street with the Union Station Plaza should be considered as one and named Benjamin Franklin boulevard, I also had in mind how we could properly and appropriately honor two other famous early representative Americans who have no enduring memorials in the District of Columbia. Those two men are Thomas Jefferson and Alexander Hamilton.

If Benjamin Franklin represents the highest type of a cross-section of men of action in our economic, political, social and cultural life, and he was that and more, Jefferson and Hamilton no less truly represented, and still represent, and are likely forever to represent, so long as we are one people, the two opposing political philosophies out of which our Nation was born, and which still mark the line of cleavage in our national life.

Hamilton was a conservative and believed in a strong centralized form of national government representative in character. Jefferson was a liberal and believed in a strong decentralized form of national government representative in character. The issue was met. Those two were the leaders. The result was a compromise, and a wise one.

If it could be said there was also a geographical division in their political philosophies, the line that marked that division was, and still is, the Potomac River.

Therefore I make the following suggestion: That the proposed boulevard on the south side of the Potomac River extending from the Memorial Bridge to Great Falls be called Thomas Jefferson boulevard and that the proposed boulevard on the north side of the Potomac River with the same termini be called Alexander Hamilton boulevard.

One other suggestion seems appropriate. The new boulevard now building along the south bank of the Potomac River from the Memorial Bridge to Mount Vernon is to be called Mount Vernon boulevard. Since the north bank of the Potomac River is also to have a boulevard between approximately the same points, why not name it John Marshall boulevard?

The many reasons why these four names are so obviously appropriate as here applied that no more need be said at this time.

Correction of Defective Speech a Nation-Wide Need—Good Work of Washington School Board.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Since honeymooning in the City of Washington and its environs the writer has kept to the pleasant habit, then formed, of reading The Post, wherever he is, if it can be had.

And I was wondering if there is any better or fairer medium for sending forth thoughts designed to permeate the entire Nation than just to mount The Post rostrom and call loudly to the whole country?

You were kind enough to print a short letter recently in which I took occasion to commend the splendid advance work of the Washington school board in the special department of speech correction, my life-long hobby.

The excellent work of Mr. W. S. Patterson and his principal teacher, Mrs. Grace W. Atherton, should, somehow, be brought to the attention of the whole country.

I just can not bring myself to the thought that any State board of education will much longer fail to make the needed provision for doing their part of the real missionary work of making right talkers out of those that, but for such help brought to their very doors, will be doomed to a life of inferiority and comparative failure.

What is needed is for our public schools everywhere to be adequately equipped, under the care of well-trained teachers, where all our children who stammer or are otherwise afflicted with marred and broken speech, may be taught speech as they are taught other things—and without money and without price.

Secretary of War Commended for Preserving Integrity of Property Near Key Bridge.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: In my estimation, Secretary of War Hurley should be congratulated on his refusal to grant a permit to the Sun Oil Co. for the construction of gasoline tanks in the vicinity of Key Bridge, which would interfere with the development of the George Washington Memorial project.

These gasoline tanks would decrease the value of the surrounding property and would have a tendency to prevent people from building homes in the vicinity of these tanks on account of the fire hazard.

If large tanks that contain more than 5,000,000 gallons of gasoline should at any time be ignited they would cause serious loss of life as well as property damage.

I am sure the tax revenue which the State of Virginia would collect in a year's time would not half compensate them for the property which would be destroyed and impairment of values of taxable real estate.

New Transcontinental Highway Suggested as Drought-Relief Measure.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: One method of improving the condition of the farmers in the drought area would be to begin immediately the construction of a highway from Washington straight through to the Pacific Coast. This would give employment for a long period of time and put money into circulation in those areas. Such a highway is urgently needed. A brand-new highway through virgin territory, with new bridges over rivers and chasms and with tunnels through mountains at proper elevation would be a work of note and one good remedy for the situation in the drought stricken areas.

Garden Fete Arranged by Suffragists

National Woman's Party to Observe Anniversary of Amendment.

By JEAN ELIOT.

IN celebration of the tenth anniversary of the ratification of the nineteenth amendment giving political equality to women, the National Woman's Party will give a garden fete on Sunday evening at its headquarters on Capitol Hill. Delving through the files of the Congressional Library, the woman's party members have unearthed an interesting collection of old pictures dealing with the days when the fight for suffrage was news and these will be shown, both still and motion picture reels, on a silver screen erected in the garden.

Pictures of parades, picketing and demonstrations will be shown, of the men in public life who did their bit to secure votes for women and of the feminine pickets who went to jail for their convictions and who even now proudly wear their prison pins. Refreshments will be served following the picture show. Mrs. Paul Linebarger is in charge of arrangements.

With political freedom for women won, the National Woman's Party is now engaged in a comprehensive campaign to secure equal rights for women under the law in the States where there is legal discrimination against women in the matter of property rights and control of their children.

Miss Alice Paul, who was the dynamic leader of the Woman's Party through all its years of struggle for suffrage, has recently returned to active participation in party councils. Some three years ago she withdrew from the organization, allegedly because of differences in party ranks, and since then she has been devoting her abundant energies to making a comparative study of laws relating to women in 84 countries and compiling a volume containing the results of her investigation. This gigantic task almost completed, she was persuaded to return to her old allegiance a few months ago. She is now a member of the national council of which Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley is chairman and is said to be the power behind the throne.

The picturesque old house in B street, in which the Woman's Party is now established, was long the home of Senator and Mrs. Porter Dale, of Vermont, who dispensed discriminating hopitality there. For the fete on Sunday in its pleasant garden an invitation is extended to all women—and men, too—who are interested in the movement to remove discrimination against women under the law.

Chief Justice to Go To Chicago Today.

Chief Justice and Mrs. Charles Evans Hughes, who returned yesterday to Washington after a holiday spent motoring in France and Belgium, will go today to Chicago to attend the meeting of the American Bar Association. Afterward they will go to New York to remain until the end of August, when they will move their household to Washington and take possessoin of the house at 2223 R street, which they have purchased. Since Mr. Hughes' appointment to the supreme bench they have had an apartment at the Mayflower.

STOCK RISE HALTED BY PROFIT TAKERS

Much of Advance Lost at Close Although Some Issues Hold Up.

CALL FUNDS PLENTIFUL

New York, Aug. 19 (A.P.).—Encouraged by the resistance to bear selling displayed by the market in recent sessions, professional operators who were bullish by inclination and temperament launched a new bull campaign in today's stock market, but found traders generally unwilling to follow the advance for more than a quick turn.

Although the market rose vigorously during the major part of the day, recording extreme gains of 2 to 9 points in most of the more prominent issues, there was a rush to take profits at the higher levels, and much of the advance was lost before the close, although several shares were up 2 to 6 net.

The price index of 90 leading shares gained only 1 3-5 points, but that was sufficient to cancel the meager net losses of the past two sessions and place the index a fraction above the level reached in Friday's brisk rally. Total sales aggregated 1,861,790 shares, about 450,000 more than yesterday.

Steel Decline Indicated.

An unsettling development late in the session was an estimate of steel mill operations appearing on the financial news tickers indicating another slight decline in production, which was a disappointment, in view of predictions that operations would at least hold steady.

Furthermore, fresh unsettlement of the commodity markets did not help the bull cause. Sentiment in Wall street was a little more cheerful in spots, for the stock market has given definite evidence of being sold to a standstill during the past two sessions, and some improvement in business after Labor Day is regarded as assured.

Credit conditions remained easy and gave promise of continuing so. The outflow of gold appears to have been checked, for the time being anyhow, and the yellow metal continues to flow in from South America and Japan.

Call Money at 2½.

Call money held at 2½ per cent all day, but was plentifully available in the outside market at 2, and some money brokers thought the rate was probably being kept at 2½ at the loan desk for fear a less profitable level might prompt withdrawals of out-of-town funds. At current rates, most dividend paying stocks more than pay carrying charges, so barring any alarming business developments, holders are not easily stampeded in selling by bear demonstrations.

Such shares as U. S. Steel, American Can, American Telephone Radio Corporation, International Harvester and Johns-Manville rose 2 points or more, only to lose much of their gains, closing from fractions to a point higher.

Radio, an active feature, was up only ½ at the close. Vanadium was also turned over in large volume, rising about 4 points. It later lost more than half its rise. Columbian Carbon, in which a Boston operator was said to have taken a long position, rose 5 points, only to lose all but about a point on its gain.

Mellon's Denial Issued.

Some confusion was occasioned after the close of the market by a denial issued in Washington by Secretary Mellon of published dispatches from Pittsburgh quoting him as saying that curtailed production of goods would without question result in correcting present conditions within a short time. Mr. Mellon said he had made no comment on business conditions. The dispatch from Pittsburgh had been widely quoted in Wall street and hailed as a bullish factor by speculators for the rise.

Case rose 8, then reacted to close only 2¾ higher. Allied Chemical gained 9, and was up 6 at the finish. Tobaccos were strong for a time, but American Tobacco B, after gaining 4, lost all but a fraction. Some of the utilities maintained their gains fairly well, as did some of the rails. North American, New York Central and New Haven closed about 2 points higher.

Eastman Kodak was a firm feature, closed 5 higher, at the top. Fox Film rose 3 points on its earnings statement, wiping out yesterday's net loss, but it later slipped back 1⅜ from the top.

Cotton Sags and Rallies.

In the commodity markets cotton sagged to new lows, then rallied to close 70 cents to $1.10 a bale higher, canceling about a third of yesterday's loss.

Grains were firm for a time, but bearish weather reports were unsettling, and wheat closed about unchanged and corn about a cent lower.

In the foreign exchanges sterling cables sagged 1-16 to $4.87 1-16, and the Canadian dollar lost its premium for the first time since July 8. The Brazilian milreis sagged to a new low, while the Spanish peseta rallied.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, Aug. 19 (A.P.).—An early advance today was followed by declines in cotton which carried prices into new low ground for the movement in the market here, but there were rallies later, with the close very steady at net advances of 14 to 22 points. New December contracts sold up to 11.23 on the early advance, broke to 10.89, or 6 points net lower, and closed at 11.13, compared with 10.95 at the close of the previous day.

The opening was very steady at an advance of 8 to 15 points in response to the relatively steady showing of Liverpool. There were overnight selling orders in the market which caused some irregularity, also Southern hedging, but the offerings were absorbed by buying on the cables and improvement in the technical position following recent severe declines. Much of this was attributed to covering and after showing net advances of about 25 to 28 points, the demand slackened somewhat while the market seemed to be meeting increasd offerings.

These probably reflected a reassertion of the bearish sentiment which has prevailed during the progress of the recent decline, while there was continued selling here attributed to the South, and probably some selling on reports of further showers in the Mississippi Valley. Prices broke to 10.69 for the new crop contract and 11.13 for March, with all the active months making new low ground for the movement, but comparatively few stop orders were uncovered on the decline.

The absence of such orders in larger volume seemed to promote confidence in the technical position of the market and there were rallies during the afternoon on renewed covering, combined with some trade and commission house buying. Closing quotations showed rallies of from 25 to 26 points from the lowest on the more active positions.

Trading was active and general at times during the day, but rather less so than yesterday, and there seemed some disposition to even up accounts after the severe decline of the past nine or ten days. According to some of the local observers there was a little more buying by both foreign and domestic trade interests on the declines today, while the Southern selling was said to be in somewhat smaller volume.

Liverpool cables reported covering, trade calling and continental buying, in that market, but said the goods market in Manchester was unsettled with buyers holding off pending stability in cotton. Exports today, 6,031 bales, making 151,645 so far this season. Port receipts, 31,029. United States port stocks, 1,654,834.

BOND AVERAGES HIT NEW HIGH FOR YEAR

Profits Are Taken, but Some Traders See Even More Appreciations.

FOREIGN ISSUES ACTIVE

New York, Aug. 19 (A.P.).—Domestic bonds were extensively accumulated today with best gains by railroad and industrial issues. Although there was a slightly firmer tendency in outside call money there was no slackening in the inquiry from institutional sources and the gains of the day carried the market to a new high for the year in the averages.

Some issues which reached new peaks in the previous session backslid as holders took their profits. However, bond men report that many are anticipating further appreciation on fixed income securities now in their strong boxes. The dearth of some issues is reflected in the sharp rises which occur on thin sales.

Atchison General 4s which is heavily held by savings banks and insurance companies, erased its former high price on the day's movement. Kansas City Southern Terminal 4s, Missouri, Kansas & Texas 4s B, Northern Railway of California, Rio Grande and Western 4s, Rutland 4½s, Northern Pacific 4½s and Lehigh Valley 4s registered new highs with gains averaging a point.

Southern Bonds Conspicuous.

Southern Railway 6½s, Union Pacific first 4s and Jersey Central 5s were conspicuous in the upward movement. Profit taking depressed Western Maryland 5s, St. Paul Union Depot 5s, Canadian National 4½s and St. Paul General 4½s. Cuba Railways continued steadily down hill, dropping 5¼ points to reach another new low for 1930.

The bullish trend of equity issues carried stock privilege bonds upward. Atchison 4½s and St. Paul 5s advanced a point each and several other rail utility and amusement obligations appreciated.

The market in utility issues was thin and bonds of telephone, gas and electric companies moved narrowly. Metropolitan Edison 4½s and Southwestern Bell Telephone 5s reached new peaks. There was a good market for Brooklyn Manhattan Transit sinking fund 6s. Others were steady to firm.

Industrials Are Irregular.

While the movement of the industrial list was highly irregular, highest grade issues continue to narrow the gap separating them from market leaders, in rails and utilities.

Lorillard 5½s and American Smelting 5s established new 1930 highs, and Western Electric 5s and Philadelphia Gold 5s sold at their best figures of the year. Weak spots were Vertientes Sugar 7s and American Ice 6s, which settled to new lows, the latter on a 4-point loss. Wheeling Steel 4½s B yielded 2 points.

Foreign issues were somewhat more active, and narrowly irregular. Royal Dutch warrant 4s made another new high. German International 5½s were firm. Japan 4s, an inactive issue, were strong.

U. S. Bonds Steady.

While Brazilian government issues weakened, Rio de Janeiro 6½s climbed 2½ points. Several municipal and industrial issues profited from good buying. U. S. Governments were steady in light trading.

Offering will be made tomorrow of $1,660,000 4½ per cent equipment trust certificates of the Central Railroad Co. of New Jersey.

The City of Bergen, Norway, plans the sale of $2,680,000 30-year 5 per cent gold bonds and will retire the outstanding portion of an 8 per cent issue, of which $4,000,000 were originally marketed.

12 WASHINGTON: WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 20, 1930.

WHITEHILL MASTER OF NATS IN PITCHING DUEL, 2-1

Westbrook Pegler Says

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—At this time the little white marble is whirring on the circumference of the wheel and the dappled tumble blocks are bouncing on the baize fields of the dicing tables in palaces of more or less chance in the wooded dells around Saratoga, N. Y. Gathered around the tables there are a lot of citizens of both genders, with greed in their eyes, shouldering and shoving for places at the board. The dealers are doing their work, impassive and mechanical, dragging in chips and paying them out. There is a great deal of cash money on hand, and it moves swiftly and openly, but with an inevitable, steady trend toward the safes in the back offices, where the watchmen sit with their one-hand guns and rifles.

I hope and trust that I do not put any lawless notions into the heads of any unscrupulous characters, but whenever I enter such a place, in the course of my journalistic research, I am uneasily apprehensive of a sudden visitation—hard, nervous intruders in the doorways, weapons covering the crowd, order to put 'em up and keep 'em up, consternation, and, not to drag the description out too long, robbery by force of arms. It seems so inviting and such a challenge to the professional talents of the unscrupulous element that I marvel at their forbearance or neglect, or whatever it is that deters or diverts or restrains them.

Plenty of Loot for Robber Folk.

The risks, of course, are not to be laughed away; but, then, the unscrupulous element are commonly represented as desperate gamblers, and the prize to be taken in a successful play would be something appreciable. There would be not only the cash funds in the little wooden money chests at the tables, in the safes, in the ladies' purses and the gentlemen's pockets, but bracelets and necklaces, ropes and collars of pearls and rings with emeralds and diamonds in them as big as highball cubes.

One night, in such a place in Florida, an authority on such matters, looking over the ornaments on the lady devotees of chance, estimated that one lady stood about half a million on the hoof. She was tossing chips at certain numbers on a roulette board with a sullen, crowning persistency, and at each such gesture her arm clanked like a yard engine shunting a string of flats, for there were bracelets, or service strips, as the predatory ladies of the Broadway and Paris sets whimsically call them, from her wrist 'way up to her elbow.

But, visiting the business office of the institution, I was shown certain fixings and precautions and lectured upon certain strategic advantages of the defense which seemed well worth the serious consideration of any lawless character, however unscrupulous or daring. There were pump guns, machine guns, hand guns and fungo bats ready to the hands of the house staff. There were pickets in the tropical foliage of the grounds outside, and at loopholes within the building sentries sat, silent and ready, constantly scanning the crowd. Moreover, the building stood on a neck of land from which retreat to the mainland could be disputed by the sheriff.

Can Get in, But Can't Get Out.

"And you have never been hoisted?" "Oh, no," the manager said, confidently. "This place is hoistproof. They might get in, but they would have the utmost difficulty getting out. And if they got out they would find it almost impossible to get away. And if they got away the sheriff and his men would block the road to Jackson-

Ruffing Yields Two Hits As Yanks Beat Chicago

New York, Aug. 19 (A.P.).—Charley Ruffing's two-hit pitching, backed up by Babe Ruth's brilliant fielding, enabled the Yankees to score a 3-to-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox today and make it three out of four for the final series between the two teams.

Ruth played a great game in the field and his two timely hits helped the Yanks score two of their runs. The third came on Kerr's error. Pat Caraway pitched a good game for Chicago and was only one run behind up to the eighth.

Bill Cissell made both White Sox hits, one a double. He was the only Chicago players to reach third base.

3 WASHINGTON HOPES SURVIVE IN NATIONAL MUNICIPAL NET PLAY

Mrs. Martinez Beats Ethel Haas, Buffalo, in Upset Match.

Considine, Mitchell Reach 4th Round in Men's Singles.

By JACK ESPEY.

THREE Washington racqueters survived when firing ceased yesterday in the second day's play in the United States public parks tennis championships at Rock Creek courts. Mrs. Ruth Martinez, local women's public parks singles champion, battled through to the semi-finals in the women's division of singles by upsetting little Miss Ethel Haas, 15-year-old Buffalo representative, 6—4, 6—8, 6—0. The Capital's fair star thus became a serious contender for the honors in her division.

Bob Considine, District of Columbia champion, seeded fourth in the men's singles, and Dooly Mitchell, holder of the local men's parks crown, romped into the third round with easy victories, the former eliminating Robert Lake, Birmingham, 6—1, 6—1, 6—0, and the latter disposing of James Keenan, jr., Niagara Falls, 6—0, 6—1, 6—1.

Dorothy Kingsbury and Louise Omwake, Washington's parks doubles champions, met defeat. Miss Kingsbury lost to Ann Lindemann, St. Louis, in a hard-fought match, 7—5, 8—6, and Miss Omwake fell before Helen Germaine, New York, 6—4, 6—2.

De Lara, Seeded No. 2, Given Scare.

Aside from Mrs. Martinez's triumph, nothing developed over which Old Man Dope felt ashamed, although Jack DeLara, Los Angeles, semifinalist last year at Buffalo and seeded second, narrowly escaped elimination in the men's singles at the hands of Bob Elliott, Baltimore. DeLara pulled out with a five set win, 5—7, 7—5, 3—6, 6—2, 6—1.

Against the youthful Miss Haas, Mrs. Martinez was forced to strike a hot pace and after dropping the second set found that her opponent was nearly worn out. The Capital woman simply breezed through the third set, her speedily paced drives causing Miss Haas no end of mental and physical pain.

Neither Considine nor Mitchell, who were making their initial appearances after getting by the first round on a default and bye, respectively, received as much opposition as would be offered them in local ranks. Considine didn't even remove his sweater in polishing off Bake, and Mitchell enjoyed as easy a match with Keenan, a left-hander.

Possibly, this was not good for them, for today they are matched

Red Sox Beaten Twice As Ferrell Wins 21st

Boston, Aug. 19 (A.P.).—Wesley Ferrell became the most victorious of American League pitchers here today by winning his twenty-first victory of the season at the expense of the Boston Red Sox in the first game of a double-header here today. Cleveland won both games, 7 to 2 and 7 to 3.

After the experienced Ferrell had pitched his mates to victory in the first game an inexperienced rookie, Lawson, performed the same feat for the Indians in the nightcap.

Giants in Second Place By Defeating Cards

St. Louis, Aug. 19 (A.P.).—The Giants moved into second place in the National League, a half game ahead of the Brooklyn Robins, by taking a hard-fought game from the Cardinals, 4 to 2, while Brooklyn was losing to Pittsburgh.

The Giants piled up an early lead by scoring three runs in the second inning, then held off the Cardinal assaults by good fielding and some steady pitching in the late innings by Carl Hubbell.

Hubbell drove in the first two Giant runs with a single after Ott and Hogan had singled and Roettger had been purposely passed. Critz's sacrifice sent in the third tally. The fourth Giant run was scored in the seventh on doubles by Leach and Lindstrom.

St. Louis tallied in the third and threatened to take the lead in the fourth, but was held to a single run, as fine throws to the plate by Ott and Roettger cut off runners. The Cardinals made three hits and received two walks in this frame.

Lindstrom led the Giant hitters with two doubles and two singles in five times at bat.

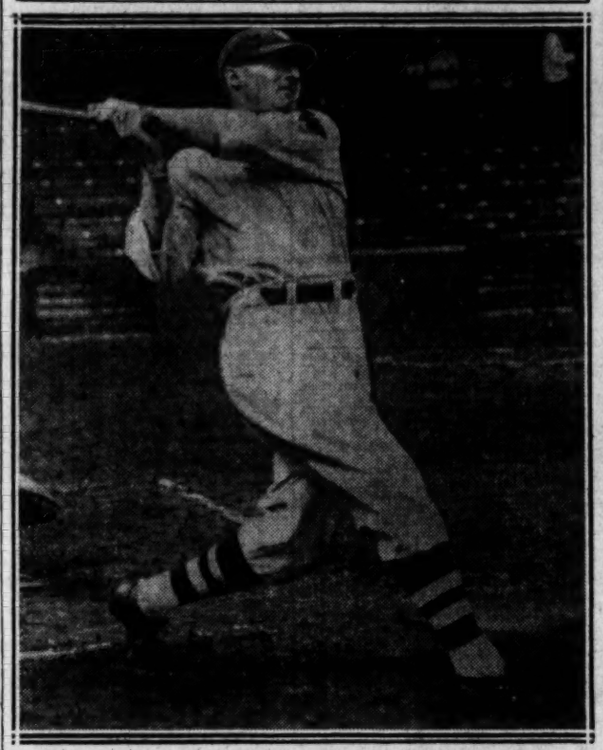
HITS 3 HOMERS IN GAME



GOOSE GOSLIN.

CUBS BEATEN AND TIED BY PHILLIES

Wilson Equals League Record With 43d Home Run.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19 (A.P.).—Bert Shotten's pesky Phillies knocked a game from the Cubs' lead over the Giants in the National League pennant race today, winning the first game of a double-header, 9 to 8, then proceeded to battle the National League champions to a standstill in a 16-inning afterpiece which was called because of darkness with the score 6-all.

Lester Bell, whose batting has been a big help during the last two days, saved the Cubs from defeat in the second game when he got a home run with two on in the eighth to tie the score. From that point on neither team was able to score.

The contest was the second overtime, no-decision affair of what started out to be a five-game series, the second game of Saturday's double-header having gone to a 3-all tie in eleven innings. Tomorrow being an open date in the schedule for both teams, they will use the day to play off the tie.

Long George Kelly celebrated his first day as a Cub by getting five hits in the second game and a pair in the first. The big thrill was Hack Wilson's forty-third home run of the season which gave him a tie with Chuck Klein, of the Phillies, as holder of the all-time National League mark.

RACE DRIVER DIES.

Kankakee, Ill., Aug. 19 (A.P.).—Charles Baumann, 33 years old, Indianapolis race driver injured Saturday on the dirt track here, died yesterday from his injuries. Baumann was impaled on a fence rail when his car left the track on the first lap of a 15-mile race at the interstate fair track. Death was accidental, a coroner's jury decided today.

GOSLIN HITS 3 HOMERS TO BEAT A'S

Clouts in Successive Times at Bat Equal World Record.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19 (A.P.).—With Goose Goslin equaling the world's record of hitting three home runs in one game and on successive times at bat, the St. Louis Browns took the final of the three-game series with the Athletics here today by a score of 7 to 0.

Tony Blaeholder blanked the world's champions with five hits.

Goslin hit his first home run off Walberg in the fifth inning. In the seventh he hit his second off Eddie Rommell and in the ninth his third, the last with one man on base and accounting for his fifth run driven in. All of Goslin's smashes were hard blows over the right-field fence.

Sun Meadow Outruns Surf Board by a Nose

Saratoga Race Track, Aug. 19 (A.P.).—Mrs. Katherine Elkins Hitt's Sun Meadow scored his second victory of the meeting when he won the Sanford, which carried a net value of $5,800, and a cup.

Mrs. Payne Whitney's Surf Board was second and G. D. Widener's Condescend was third. It was one of the closest finishes of the meeting, the first three horses finishing noses apart. The victory of Sun Meadow was more or less a lucky one, as he interferred with Condescend when he rushed to the front just after passing the far turn.

Sun Meadow and Sergeant Donaldson ran head and head a length in front of Surf Board and Cond

BOWED TENDON, RACERS' BANE, DOOMS WHICHONE

Whitney Star Unlikely to Return

Few Classy Horses Come Back After Bowing Tendon.

Blue Larkspur's Case, Injury Recurring, Is Illustration.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 19 (N.Y.W.N.S.). — A year ago Harry Payne Whitney's racing stable was at the top of the list. This season the balance of fortune has turned the unfortunate mishap to Whichone, in the running of the Travers Stakes, comes as the crowning catastrophe.

Time only can tell when the brown son of Chicle and Flying Witch will ever carry silks again. The injury was not a recurrence of the quarter crack which sent him into retirement on the eve of the Dwyer Stakes at Aqueduct nearly two months ago. It was much more serious.

Whichone bowed a tendon in the left foreleg. The bow is low, very near the ankle. Sonny Workman, who rode him, said that he believed the tendon gave way while the colt was racing head and head with Gallant Fox, between the 3-furlong and quarter pole. However, the colt, though it faltered, finished out gamely to the end.

Few Came Back After Bowing Tendon.

A bowed tendon is a serious thing with a high-class thoroughbred. Few horses that sustained bad bows have ever raced again, and of those that have, even fewer ever came back and ran and won in high-class company, and none of these ran for any length of time.

Pennant bowed a tendon in his 3-year-old season and came back at 5 and won a race or two, but finally cracked under the strain and was retired permanently. Old Rosebud bowed at 3, came back at 5 and was the kingpin of the handicap division, but bowed again, and then came back a second time, but ran with selling platers. Old Rosebud, however, was a gelding, and they are easier to train than colts.

The procedure with a bowed tendon first is plenty of rest, the affected leg is punch-fired and then there is more rest. According to Tom Healy, his trainer, Whichone is so lame now that he can not even be taken out of his stall, and it is a question whether he can be shipped home when the Whitney horses leave here a week from Saturday. Consequently it will be many months before the injured tendon can be treated.

Blue Larkspur's Case Similar.

If he is brought back to the races next year or the year after it will be for only a race or two. Witness the case of Blue Larkspur, which bowed a tendon last year and came back to the races at Arlington Park, Chicago, only to bow again after winning the Arlington Cup.

The bad luck of the Whitney stable started after Whichone and Boojum had swept everything before them in the 2-year-old events a year ago. Boojum bowed a tendon and no effort was made to race him this year, but Tom Healy hopes to bring him back next year after a rest at Brookdale Farm.

Equipoise, rated best of the 2-year-olds, sustained a splint, the displacement of a ligament in the foreleg, which is not nearly so serious as a tendon injury, in the running of the Saratoga Special, and he has been punch-fired and is galloping again. His trainer, Freddy Hopkins, hopes to have him ready for the Futurity at Belmont Park in September. But in his case, too, there will be an if.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS —By John Hix

$30,000 PAID FOR FILLY AT SPA

Watkins Buys Grayson Product; Is by Sir Gallahad III.

Special to The Washington Post.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Yearlings from the Himyar stud of Phil T. Chinn again occupied the spotlight here tonight before an enthusiastic gallery, members of which paid $199,750 for the 51 head which passed under the hammer. Greatest interest centered around the 28 Himyar youngsters, which brought $109,500, an average of $4,212.

The high spot of the night was the $30,000 paid for a filly, the highest price for one of that sex this season and a figure which equals the previous high mark paid for one of A. B. Hancock's Sir Gallahad III colts. Admiral Cary T. Grayson had the distinction of marketing the filly which also was by Sir Gallahad III but out of Starflight. Griffin Watkins was the buyer.

In the past Admiral Grayson has had more than ordinary good fortune in selling his yearlings. He rarely brings a large number to Saratoga but the few which come up invariably sell for high prices. Only two of his were knocked down tonight, but the other also brought a substantial price. It went for $7,200, also was a filly, but this time by Supremus out of Sand Pocket. C. J. Fitzgerald was the buyer.

$30,000 Filly Sister to Insco.

The $30,000 filly was a full sister to Insco, the smart youngster which has been racing in the West with success this summer. As the get of Sir Gallahad III is at the top of the market just now the spirited bidding which greeted the appearance of the filly in the sales ring was expected. It was not necessary to stimulate bidding as many were interested.

William Zeigler, jr., one of the best known of Eastern horsemen, paid the second highest price of the evening, $18,000, for a Whisk Broom II colt out of America. The youngster is bred like Upset, the only horse to defeat Man o' War. This yearling came from the consignment of T. C. McDowell and is a fine looking colt, marked with a star.

The highest price paid for a Himyar stud yearling was $13,500 and, surprisingly enough, this was for a filly.

Monroe and Shelton Fail in Title Shoot

Special to The Washington Post.

Vandalia Field, Dayton, Aug. 19.—Dr. W. D. Monroe, of Washington, scored 190 breaks in 200 targets in the North American clay targets championship, comprising the second day of shooting in the thirty-first annual grand American handicap here today. He failed to place in the prize list, as did H. H. Shelton, also of Washington, who shattered 177 targets.

Gus Payne, Cleveland, successfully defended his North American clay target championship which he won last year. Payne shattered 199 out of a possible 200 targets and tied for first place with M. McCrea, of Lamar, Mo., and E. D. Martin, Columbus, Wis. In the shoot-off Payne had a perfect run of 25 targets, McCrea broke 23 and took second place, while Martin shattered but 20 and dropped to third.

Boots and Saddle's

(Reg. U. S. Patent Office.)

—Saratoga Selections—

By J. B. SNODGRASS.

SARATOGA, Aug. 19—JIM DANDY, winner of the Travers last Saturday, will make his second start of the season here today tomorrow in the American Legion Handicap, the race for which he was shipped to Saratoga early in July. In this race he has the disadvantage of the 7 furlongs' distance, as against a mile and a quarter in the Travers, and will have what appears at this hour to be a strong probability of a fast track. But he will not be 100 to 1 in this race.

The California champ will be ignored by most handicappers in this race, and almost failed of consideration by Mr. Vosburgh, having been allotted only 101 pounds, including the 3-pound penalty for winning the Travers. Fourteen horses have been named for the American Legion, and much speed is in the race to contend against the new and vicarious hero of the race track.

FLYING HEELS, which is attempting to give away 20 pounds to JIM DANDY, is selected to win, on the assumption that this race will revert to figures and class indicated by past performance over a period of time. FLYING HEELS' last appearance was at Empire City in the Yonkers Handicap, in which he was second to Questionnaire—a horse that could have won the Travers after the race of Gallant Fox—and in the previous race of the Cochran colt he was beaten by a neck by the Butler horse. Previous to that he won the Carter handicap at Aqueduct over Jack High, Curate and others, which was such a performance as entitles him to much consideration. He will have an older horse to combat in JUDGE SCHILLING and at a weight disadvantage, the Spreckles horse being considered more dangerous than JIM DANDY, and the Travers winner is rated third on that race alone. JIM DANDY'S record is so spotted, and by that is meant, so many things have to conform to his peculiarities that it makes him inconsistent, that third is the best rating to which he is entitled. Yet he may run another freak race, and with rain, JUDGE SCHILLING would not start, and JIM DANDY would have a good chance to win over even FLYING HEELS. Other speed horses in the race are: MR. SPONGE, PETO, POLYGAMOUS, DINAH DID UPSET, FINITE and SARAZEN II.

FIRST RACE—Two-year-olds at 5 furlongs in the first race will test a field of balance, with MEEK expected to return to good form on careful preparation here. REPROOF has been winning this kind of races and is dangerous, and rated second best. REPROOF beat HARLEM two lengths last out. HARLEM should be third.

SECOND RACE—THE ACE II is a standout in the Forest Lane Steeplechase if he stands up. There are so many spills in steeplechases that this kind of racing is always uncertain. THE ACE is the class. FLOWER ROCK, a recent winner, is regarded better than PROFITEER, the other worth while horse in this race.

THIRD RACE—This is for 2-year-olds. RONALD GREY a longshot, has a good chance to score. JOLLY KING, at a closer price, may be compelled to be content with the place. RONALD GREY was third to BROKEN STONE at Aqueduct and has worked well at Saratoga. OLD SPORT has a chance, and should be as good as third.

FIFTH RACE—CANE HEART is selected in the fifth race, for 3-year-olds, and is considered the most probable winner on the card, although not the favorite, in this 6-furlong dash. SCIENCE, on Empire City form, will be one of the favorites. QUICK STEP will have a strong following, and these two are tabbed for place and show. Eighteen are listed to start.

SIXTH RACE—The Vassar, for maiden fillies, 2-year-olds, is the curtain event. Here, again, condition as revealed by the watch in workouts impels the selection of SCUTTLE, a long shot, to beat YELLOW FLAG, the probable favorite. WHITE MILLER or FINGER TIPS should be third.

NATS OPPOSE ST. LOUIS TODAY

Crowder Due to Hurl; Browns Have Won 9 of 15 Games.

BILL KILLEFER'S pesky Browns will be in our midst this afternoon when the first of a four-game set will be played. The Brownies are the only team, except the Athletics, who have an edge in series play to date over the Johnsons, and the latter are hopeful of evening the score in the coming set. In order to do so, they must make a clean sweep, for the St. Louis entry at this writing enjoys a 9 to 6 game lead.

"General" Alvin Crowder will draw the pitching assignment against his former mates today and, if he expects to beat them, he will have to show more than he did his last time out—last Sunday against the Tigers, when he was pounded all over the lot and sent to the showers before a man was out in the second round. Dick Coffman probably will do the hurling for the visitors.

Myer Pulls Muscle In Groin.

Second Baseman Buddy Myer pulled up with a minor injury yesterday and drew a layoff of two or three days, Jack (Sonny Boy) Hayes subbing for him. Myer pulled a muscle in his right groin. He was out in uniform and took a mild workout before yesterday's game. He watched the game from the bench and was available for pinch hitting purposes, the club physician declaring that batting would not hurt him any.

"I wish people would quit sending our players away," was President Clark Griffith's comment yesterday anent the report that Art Shires was slated to be sent to the minors for further seasoning as an outfielder. "Shires is coming along very nicely with his fly chasing right here," continued the Washington Club head, "and Manager Johnson expects to get plenty of use out of him, especially as a pinch hitter before the season ends.

"Even if we did want to farm Shires out, can you imagine the other clubs in the league waiving on him?" the Nat owner asked, in conclusion.

IN THE WAKE OF THE GAME

Rice confidently trotted to first on the next delivery. He gave "Umps" Ormsby a disgustingly disgusting look when advised that delivery had been called a strike.

Manush drew the first two passes issued by Whitehill, coaxing the second with two gone in the sixth.

With two on and two dead in the Tiger seventh, Johnson ended the round by sending West back almost to the stands in center for his long looper.

Rice did not have a chance afield until he came in fast in the eighth for Funk's near-Texas leaguer.

Dave Harris batted for Brown with one dead in the home eighth and came through with a clean single to center. It was only the fourth hit garnered off Whitehill's offerings.

NAVAL HOSPITAL NINE WINS, 1-0, TO EVEN SERIES

Sams Blanks Navy Yard Team

Own Error in Fourth on Bunt Loses Duel for Harover.

Teams Meet Today in Final Game for League Title.

BEFORE an enthusiastic crowd of about 4,000, which completely encircled the South Ellipse Diamond, the Naval Hospital Nine yesterday evened the count in the series with Navy Yard to decide the winner of the Government League and determine which team will represent the league in the Week Day League's championship series to be staged shortly. The Hospital tossers won, 1 to 0, and but for an error by Pitcher Harover the two might be battling yet.

The only run of the game came in the fourth inning when Howks, as a result of a hit, was on second with two out. Schuster then lay down a swinging bunt to the Navy Yard pitcher, who tossed poorly to first. The ball came to Bleier on a bad hop, hit his mitt and bounded toward right field, Howks scoring while the first sacker was retrieving.

Before this inning both teams had threatened, and there were many threats thereafter, but Harover and Sams, who pitched for the Hospital boys, always seemed to have the necessary reserve power, while some flashy fielding also helped both out of ticklish situations.

Schuster's Catch Outstanding.

Of the many good catches made during the game, Schuster's grab of a fly near the crowd was outstanding, the Hospital left fielder literally diving for the ball and landing among the spectators, coming up with it still clutched in his hands.

Harover had a little better of the pitching argument with Sams, granting but five hits, of which Piller obtained two, and striking out four. Sams yielded seven, two each to Bleier and Lattin, and fanned three.

Another large crowd is looked for this afternoon when the two teams meet in the third and deciding game.

ville and shoot them off into the Everglades, where it would be a simple matter to pick them up if the moccasins didn't get them first.

"Of course," he added, "we have been looked over from time to time by some undesirable guests. Gerald Chapman and Dutch Anderson paid us a visit incognito one evening a few years ago, but they merely frittered away a few guineas at innocent play and were on their way after a brief stop. I have no doubt that they were here on a professional errand of inspection, and I regarded their decision to withdraw as the highest compliment to our preparedness."

I am not familiar with the fixings and precautions used in the speculative centers around Saratoga, but the nature of the country suggests advantages for the attacking party which Florida does not offer. There are many roads winding off into the mountains and trickling back toward Albany or New York or away to Buffalo and Canada. The clients are intent upon their immediate problems at the tables; the conversation is all in hushed tones; the little white commie, or marble, whirs and bounces with a tiny clatter; the big fat captive dice tumble within the nickled bars of the birdcage; the patrons sit hunched over the blackjack board, their feet hitched in the rungs of their high chairs; the big, county fair paddle wheel spins with a flip-flap sound as the spikes on the tire race past the leather brake, and all is tension, eagerness, cupidity, hope and remorse, when suddenly—"Everybody put 'em up"

Boys Now Prefer Rural Districts.

Gambling always seemed to me to be a citified sport associated with hard pavements, grafting policemen and the godlessness of the big places. But I find that nowadays the boys prefer the rural districts, setting up their stores in pretty groves, often in modernized crossroad inns where the drummers used to hitch their buggies and stop for the two-bit lunch, or in old dwellings of gentle aspect, with hollyhocks ablooming in the dooryards. Not long ago I came upon a sort of trade directory of the talent and was interested to note that of several hundred professionals listed, a large proportion were operating in Missouri, Kansas, Illinois, Indiana Nevada and Michigan.

But, there, now, I hope I have not put an evil suggestion into the heads of any unscrupulous characters with talk of jewels and ready money in isolated buildings 'way off in the country where life is simple and vice unknown and the constables sleep soundly far apart.

Sports Writing Golf Fiends To Play for Cleland Trophy

THE annual golf panic at the Washington Barracks is scheduled for tomorrow when the city's host of sports writers compete for the Cleland Cup, emblematic of all that local scribes could hope for in a golfing way.

The name and fame of the Cleland Cup has been established during the past six years since being placed in competition by Capt. John R. D. Cleland and perpetuated by his successor in office at the War College, Capt. Frank Hayne.

Six former champions will participate in the tournament. They are Harry Frye, Juno Kinerk, Heinie Miller, Shirley Povich, Henry Rodier and Maury Fitzgerald, who won the tournament last year.

MRS. MARTINEZ WINS IN UPSET IN TENNIS

against formidable players in the third round. Considine will meet Edward Nowak, Buffalo, who defeated Saul Naidorff, Plainfield, N. J., while Mitchell will engage Monte Tiller, Louisville, who is seeded seventh. Tiller's victim yesterday was Dan Daly, 16-year-old color bearer of far away Honolulu. These and other third round matches will get under way at 10 a. m.

Bud Markey, coholder of the Washington parks doubles title, representing his native Indianapolis, also survived with a victory over Bernard Welsh, Rockville, who captained the Western High School Tennis Team last spring. Welsh couldn't cope with Markey's hard service and was erratic with his driving. The scores were 3—6, 6—0, 6—2, 6—3.

George Jennings, Chicago, the defending champion, advanced at the expense of Alan Staubly, of George Washington University, representing Martinsburg, W. Va. The left-handed Windy City star gave an eloquent demonstration of why he won the singles title the last two years, ending the match in regulation time, 6—1, 6—2, 6—3.

Staubly No Match For Champ.

Staubly, a comparatively capable netman himself, was totally at a loss when Jennings whipped over his cannon-ball service. The Chicagoan at times mixed a deft drop shot with flat drives to make the going tough for the G. W youth. In the third set Staubly gained a lead of3—1 by dint of brilliant placing, but his advantage was quickly wiped out.

Ted Drewes, St. Louis, four times winner of the singles championship and making a comeback after two years' absence from the tournament, had to apply pressure to put out Frank Broida, Pittsburgh, 8—6, 6—1, 6—3. Broida held a 5—2 lead in the first set.

The Lejeck brothers, of Chicago—Charles, who is seeded sixth, and Leo—both gained the third round, as did Arnold Simmons, Louisville, who registered a surprise win over Jack Castle, Buffalo, seeded third, on Monday.

WAR NETMEN WIN LEAGUE HONORS

Beat Treasury, 4-1, for Title Held 5 Yrs. by Latter Team.

WAR DEPARTMENT racqueters yesterday won the Departmental Tennis League title for 1930 by defeating the second place Treasury Team, 4 matches to 1. As the Treasury team had won the championship for the last five years, quite a celebration was held last night by the Soldiers. The victory gave War Department a record of 27 matches won as against only three losses, while Treasury had to be satisfied with 21 victories as against 9 defeats.

Stam and Seidel, playing No. 2, turned in the only Treasury victory, defeating Hobbs and Crane, 6—3 and 6—4.

Robinson and Robertson (War) defeated Charest and Purinton (Treasury), 6—1, 6—2; Stam and Seidel (Treasury) defeated Hobbs and Crane (War), 6—3, 6—4; Hills and Walsh (War) defeated Clark and Polk (Treasury), 6—4, 6—1; Jenkins and Shedd (War) defeated Dawson and Tracy (Treasury), 6—4, 4—6, 6—1; Collins and Rush (War) defeated Coe and Henry (Treasury), 7—5, 6—4, 6—1.

CLOSE ONE FOR KUHELS.

The Kuhel Peewees won their sixth straight game yesterday by beating the St. Mary's, of Del Ray, 5-4, at Walter Reed grounds, Pillsbury, pitching for the winners, fanned 14 and allowed but four hits.

Helen Marlowe, 18, Scores Upset in National Tennis

By TED VOSBURG.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 18 (A.P.).—Eighteen-year-old Helen Marlowe, of Los Angeles, led the California delegation to a series of brilliant victories in the second round of the national women's tennis championship today.

Scoring the first upset of the tournament this latest of the tennis-playing Helens from the Golden State eliminated the veteran New York player, Eleanor Goss, 7—5, 8—6, to gain a place in the third round.

Despite the absence of their two leading players, Mrs. Helen Wills Moody and Helen Jacobs, the Californians captured most of the honors of the day, placing seven of their number among the sixteen survivors. Only two players from California met defeat in the course of the afternoon.

East's Entrants Dwindle From 15 to 4.

Other sections did not fare so well, the Eastern representatives dwindling from fifteen to four while the Middle West's representation fell off from four to two and the South's from two to one.

The foreign contingent, consisting of Betty Nuthall, of England, and the Baroness Georgio Giacomo Levi, of Italy, came through with smashing straight-set victories. Miss Nuthall defeated Mrs. Ary J. Lamme, of Rye, N. Y., 6—1, 6—1 and the baroness, who is the former Maude Rosenbaum, of Chicago, chop-stroked her way to a 6—0, 6—1, decision over Florence Le Boutilliere, of Westbury, N. Y.

While most of the 700 spectators were intent upon less dramatic matches staged in the stadium, Miss Marlowe brought about the downfall of her famous opponent on one of the outside courts before a handful of onlookers.

Miss Goss, the seventh ranking player in the country and the No. 3 seeded entrant in the tournament, had been expected to win from Miss Marlowe so easily that the match was not deemed worthy of a place on the stadium's center courts.

But to the surprise of the few who watched, Miss Marlowe proceeded to give Miss Goss all the worst of it in a long-drawn-out baseline driving match. She pulled up from 3—5 to win the first set with a burst of four straight games, and she fought off a great rally by Miss Goss to take the second set and match after a bitter struggle. Miss Marlowe will clash tomorrow with Penelope Anderson, of Richmond, Va., the lone surviving representative of the South.

DOEG BEATEN BY SHIELDS IN UPSET

Tilden and Lott Also Advance Easily at Newport.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 19 (A.P.).—Frank X. Shields, young New York tennis player, today shook off his careless court habits and gave the fourteenth annual Newport Casino invitation singles tourney its arst real upset by defeating Johnny Doeg, the California Davis Cup player, 6—4, 10—12, 6—2.

For four years Shields has failed to perform up to the expectations of his admirers, but today he climbed to the peak of his career and enacted the iron man role.

Shields arrived here this morning, a day late, due to his victorious participation in the main singles championship, and was forced to play three matches to catch up with the field, which was reduced to the last sixteen. He first overcame Brainert Whitbeck, of New York, 6—1, 11—9, and then eliminated Donald Strachan, Philadelphia, 6—1, 2—6, 6—3, before meeting Doeg, who was seeded third.

Bell Eliminated By Hall.

Another match that caused surprise was the 6—2, 7—5 victory of J. Gilbert Hall, South Orange, N. J., player, over Berkeley Bell, of Austin, Tex., Davis Cup sub, whose name was last on the ten-man seeded list.

Bill Tilden, the top-seeded defending champion, led the parade into the fourth bracket. He tenderly nursed his injured hip during his play with John H. Millen, of New York, forcing that husky youngster to make enough mistakes to take the short end of the 8—6, 7—5, match.

CAPTAINS TO BEGIN CHOICE OF POLICE FOR BOOST IN PAY

Precinct Officers Ordered to Present Candidates for Gold Stripe.

MONTHLY INCREASE OF $5 TO BE REWARD

Honor for 9 Per Cent of Force Will Be Based on Excellence.

Selection of the "gold stripers," or members of the Police Department to be rewarded, was set in motion yesterday by Maj. Henry G. Pratt, superintendent of police, in an order to commanding officers detailing the manner in which privates and sergeants are to be selected for $5 extra pay a month because of efficient, courteous and meritorious service.

The $5 extra pay as recognition of outstanding ability was provided by the last session of Congress, and each of the sergeants and privates selected will be entitled to wear a gold tripe, two inches above his service stripes, on the left sleeve of his uniform coat, while remaining on the list of those given the special recognition.

Nine Per Cent for Honor.

Nine per cent of the men of each precinct are to be selected by their commanding officers for the award. The law provides that not more than 10 per cent shall be so rewarded. The remaining 1 per cent has been reserved for the immediate recognition of men who perform extraordinary service at any time.

Commanding officers were told by Maj. Pratt that in making their selections they were to give "careful consideration" to "the service rendered the public and the department by each private in your command, giving consideration to his attention to duty, his use of the discretion vested in him, energy displayed in giving his best service to the public and the department at all times, the exercise of common sense, courtesy at all times to the public and fellow officers, tact, personal as well as official conduct, decorum and control of temper, punctuality, initiative, neatness, observance of rules and regulations and other qualifications necessary to make them outstanding members of the department.

To name Candidates Monday.

"This is an award for men of demonstrated ability and outstanding efficiency," Maj. Pratt said.

Commanding officers were ordered to submit their candidates not later than Monday, and these will be passed on by a board comprised of the supervising inspectors. This board will submit definite recommendations to the police chief, and he, in turn, will submit a list to the Commissioners. The report of the supervising inspectors, who also will nominate the sergeants to be rewarded, is to be made not later than August 31.

Men will be removed from the list for any violation of department rules of which they may be convicted by the Trial Board and for any other thing which brings about a decrease in their efficiency or their rating as one of the outstanding men in the department.

$10,000 BALM SUIT IS FILED BY WOMAN

Miss Norma Cheatham Says Man Obtained License, but Canceled It.

WEDDING DATE WAS SET

A blighted romance was revealed in District Supreme Court yesterday when Miss Norma L. Cheatham, of 519 Third street northwest, filed suit against Edward E. Brown, of 1134 Twelfth street northwest, seeking to recover $10,000 for alleged breach of promise.

The woman, through Attorney Robert Hardison, declares that on July 31 she and Brown promised to marry each other and that in accordance with the agreement they went to the clerk's office of the same court and obtained a marriage license. August 2 was fixed as the wedding date, the woman avers, but she adds that instead of becoming a bride she received a note from her betrothed advising that he had changed his mind and announcing that he would not marry her.

Miss Cheatham declares that she is still ready and willing to marry the man, but that he has failed to carry out his promise and still refuses to do so. As a result of all her alleged grievances she states she has been subjected to great humiliation and has undergone great mental suffering.

Miss Cheatham's contention that the license was obtained August 1 is borne out by records in the office of the clerk of the court. These records show that at Brown's request license No. 157189 was issued on that date and that the Rev. A. F. Poore, of 307 A street northeast, was named as officiating clergyman.

The same records also bear the notation that the license was returned and canceled on August 4 by the applicant.

In the application for the license, Brown gave his age and that of the bride-to-be as 42. He also specified that neither had been married previously.

Woman Struck by Auto In Critical Condition

Mrs. Jeanete Vaughan, 30 years old, of Eighteenth street near Kilbourne place northwest, is in a critical condition in Emergency Hospital as the result of being struck by an automobile yesterday afternoon.

Charles M. Baile, of 1445 Park road northwest, while driving at Tenth and B streets northwest, knocked the woman down. Patrolman John Reilly, of the United States Park Police, said that the woman stepped from behind a parked car into the path of Baile's car.

PREJUDICE AGAINST VETERANS CHARGED

Legion Post Assails Public Printer for Discharge of Ten Employes.

RESOLUTION IS DRAWN

Charging discrimination against former service men, and pointing out specific examples, the Vincent B. Costello Post of the American Legion last night assailed Public Printer George Carter and drew up plans seeking to remedy the situation.

Dismissal of ten men within the past few days, all of them former service men, and most of them with dependents, was charged, and the post went on record as "resenting" the public printer's action.

One of those discharged, whose name was not made public, has five small children and is buying a home, it was said. The post charged that he was discharged in the public printer's alleged campaign against the former service men.

Allegations of discourtesy and "hard-boiled" treatment of former service men were made in the discussion that preceded drafting the resolution. Alfred Sterns, formerly a member of the corporation counsel's staff, and others, spoke of instances of which they had first-hand knowledge where, apparently workers at the Government's largest printing establishment were discharged because they were former service men.

The resolution will be sent to Mr. Carter, and it is planned to present a copy to the department's executive committee in the hope that that group will place the matter before the national body at the next convention.

It was made clear that where charges had been brought against employes and these charges were substantiated, the legion was not concerned. However, members declared, no such charges were placed before any of the ten men who were recently dismissed.

WATER FOR TREES URGED ON CITIZENS

Drought Imperiling Lives of Verdure Shading the Streets of City.

GARDEN HOSE WILL AID

Drought is endangering the lives of the beautiful shade trees along the streets of Washington, says Furman Lloyd Mulford, specialist in landscape gardening in the United States Department of Agriculture.

These trees are dependent on water and plant food, says Mr. Mulford. In ordinary weather they seem to find moisture enough for growth stored in the soil—and this in spite of the cement sidewalks and streets surfacings impervious to water. In a prolonged drought, however, the natural water level of the soil, or water table, as it is called, is lowered beyond the reach of the tree roots and they suffer from drought as do trees in more open situations.

The first indication of injury, says Mr. Mulford, is the premature dropping of some of the leaves. If this does not reduce transpiration sufficiently to permit the roots to supply the remaining leaves, then the remaining leaves droop and brown and the tree usually dies. If water is supplied before this stage is reached there is a good chance of saving the tree. When the injury is so severe that it is noticeable to the casual observer it is usually too late to save the tree.

To save the trees of Washington, it would be desirable, Mr. Mulford says, for each householder to supply water to the trees near his home by running a small stream from his hose into the sidewalk opening for several hours. The stream should not be strong enough to flood the area and run out over the sidewalk—just a trickle that will soak into the soil as fast as it comes from the hose.

Newly planted and young trees will be the first to show injury, but many of the older trees are likely to show the effects of this dry weather for the next year or two, if nothing is done to help them. Some of the street trees in Washington are already seriously affected by the drought, Mr Mulford believes.

One thorough soaking should suffice for about a week. The soaking may be regarded as thorough if after three days the soil below the tree is moist at a depth of 3 inches.

A few good showers, says Mr. Mulford, will help relieve the present general situation, but it will take several days of steady rain to reach the tree roots. Watering of individual trees should be continued even after we have had several good showers.

Two Escape Death As Car Overturns

Husband Says Auto Failed to Stop After Striking His on Highway.

Pinned beneath their automobile when it was overturned after being sideswiped by another machine on the main Frederick-Baltimore highway a short distance west of Newmarket, Md., a Washington couple escaped with minor injuries early yesterday afternoon.

Frank Martin, 32 years old, and his wife, Mrs. Beulah Martin, 31 years old, of 1123 Fifth street northeast, returned to their home last night after the latter had been allowed to leave the City Hospital in Frederick, where she had been admitted for treatment for lacerations about the head, face and body.

Martin told Maryland State police that he was proceeding from Frederick to Baltimore, when a blue roadster struck a glancing blow in passing in the same direction, forcing his own machine over. He said both he and his wife were pinned under the car, but that he managed to crawl out and extricate her. The hit-and-run motorist outdistanced motorcycle policemen.

Missing Virginia Wife Returns to Her Home

Missing a full week almost to the hour, Mrs. Eleanor Gates Bergen, 23-year-old saleswoman in a downtown department store, returned to her home at 630 North Washington street in Alexandria early yesterday afternoon, highly nervous and disinclined to explain an absence that led to a widespread search by police and relatives.

Mrs. Bergen's mother, Mrs. Joseph Schwarzmann, wife of the proprietor of the Alexandria Laundry, told police she saw her daughter on Tuesday afternoon of last week talking with an unidentified man in front of the department store where she had failed to report for work that day. Relatives, which included also her husband and their 1-year-old baby, had expressed the fear that Mrs. Bergen had met foul play.

NEARBY INTERESTS HUNTED IN RUM RING

Wealthy Men Sponsored Gang Just Smashed, Bureau Asserts.

SHIPMENTS LOOKED INTO

Wealthy interests in nearby Maryland and Pennsylvania are being sought by prohibition agents as the sponsorers of a large alcohol ring recently broken up in Washington, according to information announced yesterday by the Prohibition Bureau. The bureau definitely indicated that criminal prosecutions now pending in District courts will be followed by action on the part of James M. Doran, commissioner of alcohol permits.

Agents working under W. A. Heddens have learned that most of the 24,000 gallons of alcohol said to have been distributed here in the last two months by the ring was shipped into the District in the guise of legalized products. Mr. Doran is expected to investigate the source of the shipments, with a view to revoking any alcohol permits that have been abused.

Preliminary hearings for seven persons allegedly connected with the ring will be held today before United States Commissioner Needham C. Turnage. Milton Lerner, recently held under $5,000 bond, is described as the leader of the ring by Justice Department agents.

TWO CITY THEATERS MAY USE MUSICIANS

Retention of Orchestras for Stage Shows Depends on Union Meeting.

SESSION WAS DELAYED

While the possibility of Washington theaters being thrown entirely upon "canned music" still loomed last night, pending results of a meeting to be held by the local musicians' union today, it was understood that at least two downtown theaters would likely effect some sort of agreement whereby musicians necessary for stage presentations would be employed.

Faced with the announcement that their contracts expiring August 31 would not be renewed, the musicians' local was to have held a board meeting yesterday morning, but at the last minute it was postponed until today. It was understood that an offer of the Theater Owners' Association for the employment of musicians on a wage basis for piece work would be considered at the meeting. The theater owners have made known their desire to effect some satisfactory arrangement, but they particularly object to renewals of the old contracts, which forced theaters to employ a definite number of players, whether they were needed or not.

A particular bone of contention is the extra pay given musicians for special services, such as solo numbers and the change into special costumes.

Organists in all Washington theaters, who have been employed under the blanket contract will also be laid off August 31 unless some compromise is made. Approximately 30 organists will be affected, it was stated.

Man Freed on Charges Of Highway Robbery

William Reed, of Four Corners, Md., was acquitted on two charges of highway robbery yesterday in Rockville Police Court when the complaining witnesses failed to identify him as the man who held them up. He was charged with the holdup and robbery of a taxicab driver near Silver Spring, Md., and another motorist near the Indian Spring Golf Club.

Reed was arrested by Montgomery County Policemen Charles Barnes and Joseph Nolte after a chase through the business district of Silver Spring following his throwing of a glass of soda water in Policeman Nolte's face. He was fined $25 on a charge of assault.

RUM ARREST MADE IN ABDUCTION CASE AS MEN ARE HUNTED

Father of One of Suspect Pair Is Lodged in Jail at Ellicott City.

OPERATION OF STILL CHARGED BY POLICE

Campbell's Parent Knocks Down Policeman Who Calls at Farm.

Search for one of two men charged with the abduction of 16-year-old Retha Smith, of Unity, Md., yesterday resulted in the arrest of the father of one of the men on charges of operating a still by Howard County police. The father, C. Campbell, of near Daisy, Md., was taken to the Ellicott City Jail for hearing today.

Montgomery County Policemen Robert Darby and Robert Howes, accompanied by Sheriff Arthur Hardy, of Howard County, went to the farm of the elderly Campbell in search of Christopher C. Campbell, who is charged with abduction and assault on the 16-year-old girl. As they approached the farm an elderly woman ran into a nearby woods. The policemen ran after her and arrived in time to see her warning two men who were tending a still, they allege. The two men ran as police arrived. After a short chase, the elderly Campbell, who is about 55 years old, was captured by Policeman Howes. The other man, who is believed to have been the fugitive son, escaped.

Policeman Knocked Down.

The father knocked down Policeman Howes and made a bolt for freedom shortly after his arrest. He was captured by the policeman and subdued only after a struggle, police report. Two stills were found, the police say, one of 75-gallon capacity, which was not in operation, and a 30-gallon still which was in operation, according to the policemen. About 300 gallons of alleged mash was destroyed.

The elderly Campbell refused to give any information concerning the whereabouts of his son. The police also are looking for another man, who is alleged to have accompanied Campbell in the abduction of the Smith girl.

Story Told by Victim.

The girl told her parents that she had been taken away by two men who threatened her with a pistol and that she had been attacked several times by Campbell. Her disappearance at first was believed to have been accomplished to keep her from testifying at the trial of a man who is alleged to have tricked her into a false marriage, but this theory was discarded by police when they found that the alleged abductor and the man charged with the marriage are bitter enemies, they said yesterday.

The girl told State's Attorney Robert B. Peter, jr., of Montgomery County, that she had been taken to a big city, after having been kept in a tent for several days, and that she had been in the custody of a woman whose name she did not know. This woman took her to her home in a car bearing District license tags after she became frightened by reading a story in The Washington Post regarding the abduction, the girl said.

Fugitive Slayer Captured Munching on Watermelon

A heavy hand fell on the shoulder of Steven Jones, 31-year-old Negro, yesterday afternoon as he sat on an iron railing at Twelfth and B streets northwest and munched on a piece of watermelon.

The Negro looked up at the owner of the "heavy hand," threw away the watermelon, the flavor of which had suddenly turned sour, and submitted to arrest by W. E. Stein, superintendent of the Occoquan wharf.

Stein took the man to the Fourth Precinct Police Station, where an investigation disclosed that he was an escaped murderer from Raleigh, N. C. The Negro claims he walked out of the State prison there in prison uniform, leaving behind him almost the whole of a 30-year stretch he was doing for shooting a man.

Jones, known by many aliases, lived in Terrace court, southeast, where a small baby and his wife were told of his arrest. Authorities from Raleigh are expected here in several days to take him back to the jail from which he sauntered.

Dairy Looted of $170.

A duplicate key was used by thieves early yesterday to enter a branch store of the Chevy Chase Dairy Co. at 2214 Rhode Island avenue northeast. The loot consisted of $170 in cash and a small amount in checks.

Dogs' Foes and Defenders Keep Park Police on Edge

Capt. R. C. Montgomery, superintendent of the United States Park Police, is leading a dog's life these days trying to keep everybody happy in the matter of canine liberties.

On the one hand, he is receiving plenty of complaints from nature lovers who take the stand that when they feel the urge to commune with fauna in the Capital's parks they can visit the Zoo and inspect the animals through cage bars. This group keeps protesting that the park regulations requiring all dogs to be held on leashes while in the parks are not being obeyed.

Squawks also are seeping through to Capt. Montgomery's tympani, however, from dog lovers who point to the District regulations which permit licensed dogs to roam unleashed about the streets, provided they are muzzled during the summer months. They contend that the dogs also have the freedom of the parks and should not be restricted to the traffic-populated streets for their only playgrounds.

Capt. Montgomery explains that although he can sympathize with both sides, he and his men have no course except to see that the law is enforced, and that the thing for the advocates of canine liberty to do is to seek to have the regulations modified.
